U.S. And Russia Negotiate Pact To Open Consulates

Summit Session Of 18 Nations Sighted In 1964

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. AP) —British Foreign Secretary Lord Home gave guarded approval today to the Soviet Union's proposal for an 18-nation summit meeting on disarmament before June 30

Home warned, however, in a speech before the U.N. General Assembly that a number of clear directives would have to be drafted in advance if such a meeting is to have any value.

Key points that should be agreed upon, he said, are nondissemination of information about the making and use of nuclear weapons, stationing of observers to guard against surprise attack and progress toward abolition of nuclear delivery vehicles.

"My government will gladly join in any preliminary discussions which in turn could lead to such a meeting as Mr. Gromyko (Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko) described, and give it a better chance of showing results," Home said.

He blamed the "deep schism in ideology btween the Communist world and the rest" for the "comparative failure of the United Nations Organization to develop collective security... In the long run the only sure guarantor of peace."

"Now there is a sign which may herald a new chapter of cooperation between the Soviet Union and the West which could in its turn have a most profound influence on the conduct, usefulness and efficiency of the United Nations," he said.

Home noted with satisfaction that Soviet Premier Khrushchev in recent months has repeatedly declared that to interpret Communist doctrine in terms of world war is wrong and is folly.

Home said he would welcome agreement between the United States and Russia to prevent the spread of mass destruction weapons to outer space.

"The atmosphere for disarmament negotiations would then be immeasurably improved," he said.

After his assembly speech Home was to lunch with Gromyko and continue the Western probe of Russian intentions.

Chances Dwindle To Pass Tax Cut Bill This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders after consulting with President Kennedy today said that there is no valid reason why Congress can't pass both the tax and civil rights bills this session They said every effort will be made to do so.

However, earlier reports indicated that the administration has abandoned plans to try to hurry up Senate Finance Committee action on the tax cut. This apparently reduced chances of passsing it this yar.

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said that: "No two programs are more essential to the well being of the nation."

Without the proposed $11 billion tax cut, he said, the economy cannot meet the demand for jobs posed by an exploding population.

Without enactment of the civil rights bill, he said, the nation will diminish morally.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana echoed the speaker's sentiments. He said there is no intention to pass either the tax bill or the civil rights bill alone but to pass both before the congressional session ends.

McCormack and Mansfield, flanked by other Senate and House Democratic leaders, talked with newsmen after their weekly breakfast session with President Kennedy.

There appeared to be a link between today's strong stand for pushing both tax and civil rights measures to enactment and a statement over the weekend by Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a probable leader for the Republican presidential nomination next year, that Kennedy would have to choose between a tax cut and civil rights bill for enactment in this session.

Answering a question, Mansfield said he had received no indication when Chairman Harry F Byrd, D-Va., of the Senate Finance Committee, would bring the House-passed tax bill before the committee for consideration. He said, however, that he would expect Byrd to start hearings shortly.

Biggest Military Pay Boost Will Be Law Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The biggest military pay boost in history is expected to become law by nightfall. If it does, the nation's service men and women would start effective today to share in the $1.2-billion annual increase.

Quick House approval was anticipated for the measure which cleared the Senate last Thursday. President Kennedy was expected to sign the bill as soon as it reaches the White House.

Pay boosts would average 14.4 per cent and range as high as $120 monthly.

Even so, government officials said that thousands of low-ranking personnel probably would continue to seek charity or outside jobs.

The basic pay of recruits, for example, would go up only $5 a month to a new scale of $105 monthly. Counting subsistence and living quarters allowances, many of them would still end up with annual incomes of about $2,400 a year.

Most of the increases would go to officers and enlisted personnel in the middle pay grades—those at points in their careers at which they face decisions on whether to continue in the military life.

The bill is a compromise between earlier measures passed by the House and Senate. It would bring raises as high as $120 a month for majors, lieutenant commanders, senior sergeants and chief petty officers.

Other increases include: captains and Navy lieutenants, $115 a month; sergeant majors and equivalent ranks, $55; corporals and their equivalent ranks, $35.

The recruits, privates, corporals and sergeants, and corresponding Navy ranks, with more than two years service would get boosts ranging from 15 to $40 monthly.

In addition, men in combat areas like South Viet Nam would receive an extra $55 a month and servicemen who must leave their dependents at home would receive $30 a month more.

The increase would be the first in basic military pay since 1958. Reservists and National Guardsmen would share in the increases, getting more money for drills and training duty.

Poison Fatal To Baby At UM

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The deadly poison from which 15-month-old John Bernardo drank was identified Monday.

But by then it was too late to save the son of a University of Michigan pharmacy student.

John, son of Peter Bernardo, 27, graduate student from New Kensington, Pa., died Sunday night at the University Medical Center within three hours after having drunk from an unlabeled vial in a campus pharmacy laboratory.

The father had taken the baby with him when he went to the lab to pick up some papers.

Bernardo said he was standing on a desk, searching a high shelf for the papers. When he looked down, he saw John standing near the opened vial after apparently having drunk some of the yellowish fluid.

Bernardo rushed the boy to the Medical Center, where he succumbed.

Meanwhile, experts had tried vainly to identify the chemical solution in order to give John an antidote.

Dean Thomas Rowe of the Colg of Pharmacy said the vial had been left by a former faculty man who had gone to California last August.

"Hospital officials contacted him within 10 minutes after the accident but he couldn't remember what was in the vial," Dean Rowe said.

Rowe said the contents were identified in laboratory tests Monday as mercuric iodide dissolved in a solution of potassium iodide. He said an antitidote would have ben effective only if given within 10 or 15 minutes.

The dean said Bernardo told him he "didn't have his eyes off the boy for more than a minute" in the laboratory.

Bernardo and his wife left Monday for New Kensington with John's body.

Trade Between Two Nations Will Get Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union are quietly negotiating a consular treaty which could chip more frost from the Cold War and ultimately aid in any increased U.S.-Soviet trade.

The talks are under way in Moscow against a background of heightened American interest in trade with the Soviet Union. The administration is considering the possibility of selling wheat to the Soviets, a transaction some feel could be the first step in freer American-Soviet trade relations.

The proposed treaty would enable each of the two countries to open consulates in cities outside each other's capital.

If an agreement is reached, the Senate would have to ratify the pact before it could become effective, just as in the case of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

Experts Discuss Issue

Generally the job of a consulate is to look after the interests of its citizens traveling or doing business abroad. Although embassies have taken over some of these commercial functions, an embassy's chief mission is to represent its country in dealings with a foreign power.

Warde M. Cameron, an assistant legal adviser of the State Department, is conducting the talks with the Soviet foreign ministry. He left for Moscow after the Soviet Union recommended Sept. 14 that legal experts of the two foreign offices discuss the issue.

Although letters between President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Soviet Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov, which led to U.S. recognition of the U.S.S.R. proposed a consular treaty, no pact was ever concluded.

Nevertheless, the two powers had consular relations for a while.

In 1941, the United States set up a consular office in Vladivostok, the big soviet Pacific coast port, and got permission in 1947 to open one in Leiningrad. The latter was never opened, however.

In the mid-1930s, the Russians opened offices in New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Closed In 1948

The three Soviet consulates here and the American one in Vladivostok were closed in 1948, the year of the Berlin blockade and the Soviet bloc's campaign against Yugoslavia's Tito. The immediate reason of the closings however, was the desperate escape from Moscow's New York consulate of Oksana S. Kasenkina, a Soviet teacher, who leaped from a third-floor window to avoid returning to the Soviet Union.

When Soviet Premier Khrushchev visited with President Eisenhower at Camp Davis in 1959, the two briefly touched on the possibility of a consular agreement.

The U2 spy plane incident put the issue into the deep freeze and although it was revived in 1962 when the United States prepared a draft of an agreement and sent it to Moscow, it remained virtually dormant until last summer.

When Secretary of State Dean Rusk visited the Soviet capital to sign the limited nuclear test-ban treaty, he brought up the question again. The Russians were interested — and sent the invitation which resulted in the dispatch of Cameron.

Rocky To Run, Nixon Thinks

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard M. Nixon says Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller made it "quite clear" during a chat three weeks ago that he will seek the 1964 Republican nomination for president.

The former vice president says that as a result of the talk he has no doubt that Rockefeller will make the race. Nixon added that he believes Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona also will be a candidate for the nomination.

"Both are so heavily committed," he said, "that it will be impossible for them to pull back."

Nixon, the 1960 GOP nominee, told newsmen Rockefeller "implied" that he wanted Nixon's support for the nomination. But, Nixon added: "I am not committed to any candidate at this time."

Asked whether he might emerge as a dark horse candidate if a convention deadlock developed between Rockefeller and Goldwater, Nixon replied:

"I'm not going to be a candidate in 1964. There will be no dark horse candidates. I will support the candidate chosen by the Republican convention."

Nixon added that he will "not be part of any stop-Rockefeller or stop-Goldwater movement."

Catholic Church Gets Start On Christian Unity

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Ecumenical Council approved for final debate today a key document to define anew the nature of the Roman Catholic Church in a modern world.

It is the schema (topic) "de ecclesia" "about the church"). It received overwhelming endorsement in a revised, more simplified form demanded by progressive prelates. They said that in simpler form "de eccclesia" would help further Christian unity.

Criticizing the form of the schema as it was presented at the first meeting of the Ecumenical Council last year, these prelates said it must be recast in more pastoral terms.

The schema deals with the manner in which the Roman Catholic Church operates. Details are secret. However it is known to expand the role of Bishops in sharing the Pope's authority.

A council press office communique said 2,231 prelates voted for the schema, 43 voted against it, 3 voted for it "but with reservations," and 24 ballots were declared void because they were improperly marked. The required majority of the 2,301 fathers present and voting was 1,151.

Only a majority was required to put the schema before the council for discussion.

A two-thirds majority will be required for a final vote in plenary session, perhaps before the council's phase ends Dec. 4 or more likely in a session next year.

This interest on a $130 million debt has been paid since the seaway opened in 1959.

ALGIERS (AP)—Units of the Algerian army today began joining the dissident troops of rebellious Col. Mohand Ou El Hadj. The colonel called for a decisive fight against President Ahmed Ben Bella's government.

A government officer in Tizi Ouzou, capital of the Berber area of Kabylie which is the nerve center of the revolt, said most noncommissioned officers and men in the area have deserted.

Informants in Tizi Ouzou said all was quiet in the city and virtually all troops disappeared from the streeets.

Small convoys were seen heading toward the mountains where Ou El Hadj has beeen organizing his stronghold.

Ou El Hadj called on officers and men of his 7th Military Region "to join us in our combat."

Ben Bella sought to rally the Algerian masses against the threat to his one-man rule.

Hurricane Rages In Caribbean

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Flora, labled the most dangerous hurrican of the season, raged in the Caribbean with top winds of 110 miles an hour today. Emergency supplies were being sent to her first victim, the Robinson Crusoe island of Tobago.

Damage to Tobago and her 40,000 residents, just off the coast of Vnezuela, probably ran very high, the weather bureau said. Communications were cut and one of the few reports to get out simply said damage was extensive.

"This is by far the most dangerous storm of the season, tightly knit and concentrated," said forecaster Gilbert Clark of the National Hurricane Center at Miami. "It is going to have to hit land somewhere before it can get out of the Caribbean."

Flora's 15 m.p.h. west-northwesterly course at 5 a.m. (EST) would take her over the Lesser Antilles, which perforate the Caribbean off the north coast of Venzucla Gale warnings were issued for some of the islands.

But Clark pointed out that hurricanes tended to move more northward, which would take Flora toward Puerto Rico and Hispaniola. However, it would be at least 24 hours before Flora could whirl within range, Clark said.

Poison Fatal To Baby At UM

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The deadly poison from which 15-month-old John Bernardo drank was identified Monday.

But by then it was too late to save the son of a University of Michigan pharmacy student.

John, son of Peter Bernardo, 27, graduate student from New Kensington, Pa., died Sunday night at the University Medical Center within three hours after having drunk from an unlabeled vial in a campus pharmacy laboratory.

The father had taken the baby with him when he went to the lab to pick up some papers.

Bernardo said he was standing on a desk, searching a high shelf for the papers. When he looked down, he saw John standing near the opened vial after apparently having drunk some of the yellowish fluid.

Bernardo rushed the boy to the Medical Center, where he succumbed.

Meanwhile, experts had tried vainly to identify the chemical solution in order to give John an antidote.

Dean Thomas Rowe of the Colg of Pharmacy said the vial had been left by a former faculty man who had gone to California last August.

"Hospital officials contacted him within 10 minutes after the accident but he couldn't remember what was in the vial," Dean Rowe said.

Rowe said the contents were identified in laboratory tests Monday as mercuric iodide dissolved in a solution of potassium iodide. He said an antitidote would have been effective only if given within 10 or 15 minutes.

The dean said Bernardo told him he "didn't have his eyes off the boy for more than a minute" in the laboratory.

Bernardo and his wife left Monday for New Kensington with John's body.

Rocky To Run, Nixon Thinks

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard M. Nixon says Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller made it "quite clear" during a chat three weeks ago that he will seek the 1964 Republican nomination for president.

The former vice president says that as a result of the talk he has no doubt that Rockefeller will make the race. Nixon added that he believes Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona also will be a candidate for the nomination.

"Both are so heavily committed," he said, "that it will be impossible for them to pull back."

Nixon, the 1960 GOP nominee, told newsmen Rockefeller "implied" that he wanted Nixon's support for the nomination. But, Nixon added: "I am not committed to any candidate at this time."

Asked whether he might emerge as a dark horse candidate if a convention deadlock developed between Rockefeller and Goldwater, Nixon replied:

"I'm not going to be a candidate in 1964. There will be no dark horse candidates. I will support the candidate chosen by the Republican convention."

Nixon added that he will "not be part of any stop-Rockefeller or stop-Goldwater movement."

Catholic Church Gets Start On Christian Unity

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Ecumenical Council approved for final debate today a key document to define anew the nature of the Roman Catholic Church in a modern world.

It is the schema (topic) "de ecclesia" "about the church"). It received overwhelming endorsement in a revised, more simplified form demanded by progressive prelates. They said that in simpler form "de eccclesia" would help further Christian unity.

Criticizing the form of the schema as it was presented at the first meeting of the Ecumenical Council last year, these prelates said it must be recast in more pastoral terms.

The schema deals with the manner in which the Roman Catholic Church operates. Details are secret. However it is known to expand the role of Bishops in sharing the Pope's authority.

A council press office communique said 2,231 prelates voted for the schema, 43 voted against it, 3 voted for it "but with reservations," and 24 ballots were declared void because they were improperly marked. The required majority of the 2,301 fathers present and voting was 1,151.

Only a majority was required to put the schema before the council for discussion.

A two-thirds majority will be required for a final vote in plenary session, perhaps before the council's phase ends Dec. 4 or more likely in a session next year.

Seaway Interest Payments Mount To 10 Million

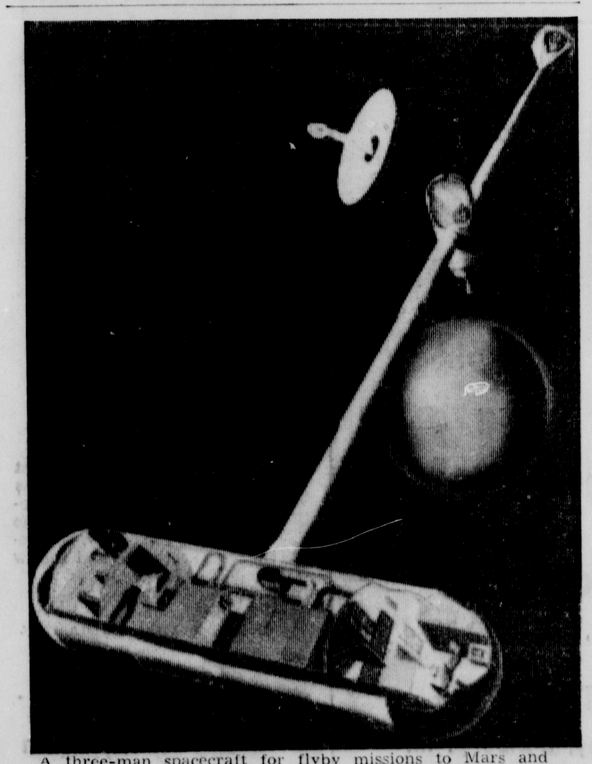

DETROIT (AP) — Interest payments on the St. Lawrence Seaway reached $10 million today with the latest payment of $355,097.

Joseph H. McCann, U. S. Seaway administrator, made the payment on behalf of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. to the U. S. Treasury.

This interest on a $130 million debt has been paid since the seaway opened in 1959.

Balance Goes Up

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's treasury balance jumped $29.9 million last week as expenditures totaled $31 million and income was $60.9 million. The balance at week's end was $136.9 million.

Hurricane Rages In Caribbean

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Flora, labled the most dangerous hurrican of the season, raged in the Caribbean with top winds of 110 miles an hour today. Emergency supplies were being sent to her first victim, the Robinson Crusoe island of Tobago.

Damage to Tobago and her 40,000 residents, just off the coast of Vnezuela, probably ran very high, the weather bureau said. Communications were cut and one of the few reports to get out simply said damage was extensive.

"This is by far the most dangerous storm of the season, tightly knit and concentrated," said forecaster Gilbert Clark of the National Hurricane Center at Miami. "It is going to have to hit land somewhere before it can get out of the Caribbean."

Flora's 15 m.p.h. west-northwesterly course at 5 a.m. (EST) would take her over the Lesser Antilles, which perforate the Caribbean off the north coast of Venzucla Gale warnings were issued for some of the islands.

But Clark pointed out that hurricanes tended to move more northward, which would take Flora toward Puerto Rico and Hispaniola. However, it would be at least 24 hours before Flora could whirl within range, Clark said.

Chevalier, 75, Starts His 63rd Year In Theater

PARIS (AP)—Maurice Chevalier, who began singing in Paris bistros when he was 12 years old, started his 63rd year in show business with a rousing one-man show at the theater Des Champs Elysees.

The black tie audience, which included French Premier Georges Pompidou and actress Jane Fonda, gave Chevalier a standing ovation.

"This night is the highlight of my career," said the 75-year-old entertainer.

"Being 75 isn't so bad — you have to slow down a bit though."

Then, Chevalier demonstrated that he isn't slowing down. He did a twisting, swinging imitation of Elvis Presley.

Trade Between Two Nations Will Get Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union are quietly negotiating a consular treaty which could chip more frost from the Cold War and ultimately aid in any increased U.S.-Soviet trade.

The talks are under way in Moscow against a background of heightened American interest in trade with the Soviet Union. The administration is considering the possibility of selling wheat to the Soviets, a transaction some feel could be the first step in freer American-Soviet trade relations.

The proposed treaty would enable each of the two countries to open consulates in cities outside each other's capital.

If an agreement is reached, the Senate would have to ratify the pact before it could become effective, just as in the case of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

Experts Discuss Issue

Generally the job of a consulate is to look after the interests of its citizens traveling or doing business abroad. Although embassies have taken over some of these commercial functions, an embassy's chief mission is to represent its country in dealings with a foreign power.

Warde M. Cameron, an assistant legal adviser of the State Department, is conducting the talks with the Soviet foreign ministry. He left for Moscow after the Soviet Union recommended Sept. 14 that legal experts of the two foreign offices discuss the issue.

Although letters between President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Soviet Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov, which led to U.S. recognition of the U.S.S.R. proposed a consular treaty, no pact was ever concluded.

Nevertheless, the two powers had consular relations for a while.

In 1941, the United States set up a consular office in Vladivostok, the big soviet Pacific coast port, and got permission in 1947 to open one in Leiningrad. The latter was never opened, however.

In the mid-1930s, the Russians opened offices in New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Closed In 1948

The three Soviet consulates here and the American one in Vladivostok were closed in 1948, the year of the Berlin blockade and the Soviet bloc's campaign against Yugoslavia's Tito. The immediate reason of the closings however, was the desperate escape from Moscow's New York consulate of Oksana S. Kasenkina, a Soviet teacher, who leaped from a third-floor window to avoid returning to the Soviet Union.

When Soviet Premier Khrushchev visited with President Eisenhower at Camp Davis in 1959, the two briefly touched on the possibility of a consular agreement.

The U2 spy plane incident put the issue into the deep freeze and although it was revived in 1962 when the United States prepared a draft of an agreement and sent it to Moscow, it remained virtually dormant until last summer.

When Secretary of State Dean Rusk visited the Soviet capital to sign the limited nuclear test-ban treaty, he brought up the question again. The Russians were interested — and sent the invitation which resulted in the dispatch of Cameron.

Solving Child's Problems Aim Of Guidance Clinic

The Escanaba Area Branch of the Upper Peninsula Child Guidance Clinic is one of the nine member agencies of Delta United Charities, whose drive for funds began Monday.

Goal of Delta United Charities to meet the operating budgets of its participating charitable, health and welfare members is $50,000.

In operation since July 1, 1957, the Escanaba Branch of the Child Guidance Clinic now serves the children and parents of an area that includes Delta, Menominee and Schoolcraft Counties.

How It Serves

Frank Waitrovich, who is the Branch supervisor and psychiatric social worker, said that during the past six years the Clinic's service has been of direct benefit to families, schools and communities through a program of mental health education in an area with a combined population of 66,000.

The Clinic's primary responsibility is to provide diagnosis and treatment for children with emotional problems. Accompanying this service is the help given to the parents to accept and handle the child's problems, working with the clinic staff to bring about the child's recovery. Emotional problems interfere with children's adjustment in various ways. Sometimes learning is affected so that children with average and above average intelligence are falling behind in school.

In other cases, behavior is affected and predelinquent or delinquent behavior may result. Unless checked, this behavior can become serious criminal behavior in later life at great cost to the individual and his family, as well as to society. In some cases, emotional problems influence the symptoms and attitudes that are the beginnings of mental illness which may show up later in life, again at great cost to the individual and his family as well as society, said Waitrovich.

Wide In Scope

"The Child Guidance Clinic program is designed to diagnose and treat children who are showing these problems, early in life, so the child can learn to handle life's problems with a minimum of tension. While most of the clinic service is with families where problems have already developed, it is hoped that by early intervention, these problems may be prevented from the development of more serious maladjustment," he continued.

In 1962, a total of 104 families were referred or sought the clinic services on their own. Of these families, 72 came from Delta County where the Clinic is located and therefore better known, 22 came from Menominee Counthy, and 10 from Schoolcraft County. For the first six months of 1963, 72 families were referred with the distribution being: Delta County 50, Schoolcraft County 12, and Menominee County 10. Forty-two open cases were carried over from 1962 and in the first half of 1963, 67 new cases were opened to receive the clinic services. Currently there is a waiting list of approximately 20 children and parents, extending back several months, Waitrovich explained .

"Children are usually referred to the Clinic by parents, schools, social agencies, physicians, courts, health departments or clergymen, but anyone may refer a child who is experiencing learning or emotional difficulties with the consent of the parents. Any child up to age 18 is eligible to obtain the services of the Clinic. Service to referrals made, is given in chronological order, however, priority is given any child for whom service is extremely urgent," he said.

Operating Budget

Presently, the Clinic does not charge for its services. The Michigan Department of Mental Health pays the salary of the professional staff. All other expenses, capital and operating, including secretarial salaries, are provided by the communities served by the Clinic. The Clinic's operating budget for 1964 is approximately $7,000 of which it is hoped the Delta United Fund will be a major contributor.

The Escanaba Area Branch Clinic is staffed by people trained from three closely-knit professions: phychiatry, psychology and psychiatric social work. Waitrovich serves as psychiatric social worker and branch supervisor; Melvin Roberts serves as clinical psychologist, and Dr. Elizabeth Kane serves as psychiatrist, offering psychiatric consultation on a monthly basis. Mrs. Doris Fitzpatrick is the clinic secretary.

In addition, the Clinic is governed by an advisory board composed of citizens from the area interested in child guidance. The primary function of the clinic staff is to apply its combined professional skills toward the understanding and treatment of children with emotional problems. The staff attempts to help other agencies and schools in their understanding and dealings with all children and participates in community educational programs in the field of mental health.

Frank Waitrovich, psychiatric social worker, interviews a mother whose child has been referred to the Guidance Clinic because of poor school adjustment. Background information about the child and his family is discussed, including early and continued physicial and emotional development, health history, learning problems, social adjustment and his relationships with other children and family members.

Thompson Voters Okay 1.5 Mills

MANISTIQUE — Thompson Township School District in a special election Monday approved a proposal for 1.5 mills for one year on a vote of 49-27. The levy will provide $2,000 and will be used to retire indebtness of $6,800.

The district plans to retire the total deficit within a three-year period.

Death Claims Edward Olson

Edward J. Olson, 72, of 939 Stephenson Ave., died at his home at 8:15 a. m. today.

Mr. Olson was born March 10, 1891 in Stephenson, and had been a resident of Escanaba since 1917. He was employed at the Chicago North Western Railroad Tie Plant as a foreman until the time of his retirement in 1957 due to ill health.

He is a member of Brotherhood Lodge 400.

Surviving are his wife, the former Rose Nantelle; one daughter, Mrs. Donald (June) Brophy of Rockford, Ill.; one son, Arthur, also of Rockford; five grandchildren; one sister, Esther Hansen, Rockford.

Friends may call at the Degnan Funeral Home beginning at 7 p. m. Wednesday.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Thursday from the funeral home with Rev. Donald Wolf officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Fire Danger Is High In Forests

Marvin Marshall, fire control forester for the Hiawatha National Forest, reports that the recent rain in the Escanaba area missed much of the Hiawatha National Forest. Very high fire dangers are expected throughout much of the forest area.

The opening of the small game hunting season and the beauty of the forest foliage will attract many people during this hazardous period. All persons in the woods are urged to use caution while smoking and in the use of fire, he said.

Feeder Cattle Sale Planned

Nearly 400 northern Michigan farmers will market their annual crop of feeder cattle through six well established feeder cattle cooperative sales during early October.

Indications now point to well over 10,000 feeder cattle to be marketed in these six sales. A brochure recently released about the sales indicates that most of the cattle will be calves, however, some 1500 yearlings have been consigned. A year ago these sale groups marketed 9674 feeder cattle that weighed 2200 tons, and brought the consignors more than 1¼ million dollars.

The 1963 sales scheduled to start at 12 noon includes:

Tuesday, Oct. 8, Escanaba, 1400 calves, 125 yearlings.

The feeder cattle provide an indirect market for many tons of hay and many acres of native northern Michigan pasture that would not have been marketed this year if it was not for the feeder cattle program.

Michigan feed lot operators fatten some 180,000 cattle each year for slaughter, yet only about one-third of the beef consumed in the state, is produced in Michigan. The marketing of feeder cattle upon a sorted and graded basis was started in West Branch, and at Escanaba in 1958.

All cattle are native born in northern Michigan and sired by purebred beef bulls. Most of the cattle are Herefords. The cattle are assembled at the sale yards one to three days before each sale, so that buyers may study the cattle before the auction.

Sale Of Wheat Being Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators who are urging President Kennedy to clear the way for sale of wheat to the Soviet Union say he may discuss the problem today with his advisers and announce his decision before the week is out.

Sens. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and Allen J. Ellender, D-La., expressed belief Monday that the President has the authority to act on his own and should.

If the President waits for Congress to pass a resolution urging him to take executive action it could involve long debate and then "there wouldn't be any deal," said Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Ellender, chairman of the Agriculture Committee, said Kennedy may call an administration pow-wow on the politically hot question today.

The two senators expressed their views to newsmen after their committees heard from Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

The three, who have been sounding out Capitol Hill sentiment on a wheat deal, told the senators that the President is weighing the political as well as economic effects.

Official United Nations sources said in New York Monday that the Russians have indicated to American traders—but have not as yet made a firm offer—that they want to buy $250 million worth of U. S. grain.

In talks with American grain traders, Soviet negotiators have reportedly said they would like the shipments to begin no later than early November.

All American wheat exports are subsidized by the government by about 60 cents a bushel so it can compete for foreign markets. This is because the price support program pegs the domestic price at about $2 a bushel, about 60 cents above the market price for the rest of the world.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, voiced the sentiment of those opposed to the deal when he said Congress had set a policy that sales at subsidized prices should not be made to the Soviet Union and said "it should not be done."

She was arraigned in municipal court. Authorities said she solicited and received money which she said was for a family in which a death had occurred, but kept the money for herself.

Study Separate Dairy And Beef Shows At Fair

Chief among items discussed by the U. P. State Fair board of managers at a recent meeting was a proposal to hold two separate dairy and beef shows. Lack of space was given as the reason for a study of the matter which Secretary-Manager Ray LaPorte was directed to make by the board.

Under the plan, 4-H cattle and beef entries would be entered a day early, judged and released on Wednesday night with the Open Class Cattle exhibits being shown the remainder of the week.

Some of the advantages listed were that the 4-H Cattle Barn could be released for use as a general exhibition building to house other 4-H, Home Economics, Floriculture and Agriculture exhibits. This in turn would provide additional space in the buildings being used at present, for commercial exhibitors and for displays of industrial manufactuers, locally produced handicraft and tourism exhibits.

It was also pointed out that exhibitors of cattle in both 4-H and open class would not have to spend the entire week at the Fair taking care of their cattle, but would earn the same premiums now being paid.

Objections to the plan included the task of cleaning out the barn after the 4-H cattle were released and the subsequent disinfecting and re-bedding of the stalls, and whether there would be sufficient time for open class exhibitors to get their animals properly fitted in time for judging. In authorizing the study of the matter, the board of managers invited comments from exhibitors, Extension personnel and others interested in the Fair's cattle exhibits.

The Board also reviewed the operating budget for the fiscal year 1964-65 which was increased to $120,115 to allow for additional increases in premiums it is expected which will be needed for the 1964 Fair, the dates of which are Aug. 18 through 23.

Noting that receipts were not keeping pace with expenditures the board of managers also authorized a study of the policies in effect at other Michigan fairs with respect to "free stickers" for exhibitors and employees, as a possible means of increasing revenues and controlling certain abuses in this area.

Attending the meeting were Kemp H. Brown, chairman, Munising, Erling Arntzen and R. E. Allingham, Escanaba, Carl P. Hansen of Wallace, Ralph C. Fuller of Newberry and LaPorte, secretary-manager.

Nearly 400 northern Michigan farmers will market their annual crop of feeder cattle through six well established feeder cattle cooperative sales during early October.

Indications now point to well over 10,000 feeder cattle to be marketed in these six sales. A brochure recently released about the sales indicates that most of the cattle will be calves, however, some 1500 yearlings have been consigned. A year ago these sale groups marketed 9674 feeder cattle that weighed 2200 tons, and brought the consignors more than 1¼ million dollars.

The 1963 sales scheduled to start at 12 noon includes:

Tuesday, Oct. 8, Escanaba, 1400 calves, 125 yearlings.

The feeder cattle provide an indirect market for many tons of hay and many acres of natice northern Michigan pasture that would not have been marketed this year if it was not for the feeder cattle program.

Michigan feed lot operators fatten some 180,000 cattle each year for slaughter, yet only about one-third of the beef consumed in the state, is produced in Michigan. The marketing of feeder cattle upon a sorted and graded basis was started in West Branch, and at Escanaba in 1958.

All cattle are native born in northern Michigan and sired by purebred beef bulls. Most of the cattle are Herefords. The cattle are assembled at the sale yards one to three days before each sale, so that buyers may study the cattle before the auction.

Sale Of Wheat Being Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators who are urging President Kennedy to clear the way for sale of wheat to the Soviet Union say he may discuss the problem today with his advisers and announce his decision before the week is out.

Sens. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and Allen J. Ellender, D-La., expressed belief Monday that the President has the authority to act on his own and should.

If the President waits for Congress to pass a resolution urging him to take executive action it could involve long debate and then "there wouldn't be any deal," said Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee.

Ellender, chairman of the Agriculture Committee, said Kennedy may call an administration pow-wow on the politically hot question today.

The two senators expressed their views to newsmen after their committees heard from Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

The three, who have been sounding out Capitol Hill sentiment on a wheat deal, told the senators that the President is weighing the political as well as economic effects.

Official United Nations sources said in New York Monday that the Russians have indicated to American traders—but have not as yet made a firm offer—that they want to buy $250 million worth of U. S. grain.

In talks with American grain traders, Soviet negotiators have reportedly said they would like the shipments to begin no later than early November.

All American wheat exports are subsidized by the government by about 60 cents a bushel so it can compete for foreign markets. This is because the price support program pegs the domestic price at about $2 a bushel, about 60 cents above the market price for the rest of the world.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, voiced the sentiment of those opposed to the deal when he said Congress had set a policy that sales at subsidized prices should not be made to the Soviet Union and said "it should not be done."

Study Separate Dairy And Beef Shows At Fair

Chief among items discussed by the U. P. State Fair board of managers at a recent meeting was a proposal to hold two separate dairy and beef shows. Lack of space was given as the reason for a study of the matter which Secretary-Manager Ray LaPorte was directed to make by the board.

Under the plan, 4-H cattle and beef entries would be entered a day early, judged and released on Wednesday night with the Open Class Cattle exhibits being shown the remainder of the week.

Some of the advantages listed were that the 4-H Cattle Barn could be released for use as a general exhibition building to house other 4-H, Home Economics, Floriculture and Agriculture exhibits. This in turn would provide additional space in the buildings being used at present, for commercial exhibitors and for displays of industrial manufactuers, locally produced handicraft and tourism exhibits.

It was also pointed out that exhibitors of cattle in both 4-H and open class would not have to spend the entire week at the Fair taking care of their cattle, but would earn the same premiums now being paid.

Objections to the plan included the task of cleaning out the barn after the 4-H cattle were released and the subsequent disinfecting and re-bedding of the stalls, and whether there would be sufficient time for open class exhibitors to get their animals properly fitted in time for judging. In authorizing the study of the matter, the board of managers invited comments from exhibitors, Extension personnel and others interested in the Fair's cattle exhibits.

The Board also reviewed the operating budget for the fiscal year 1964-65 which was increased to $120,115 to allow for additional increases in premiums it is expected which will be needed for the 1964 Fair, the dates of which are Aug. 18 through 23.

Noting that receipts were not keeping pace with expenditures the board of managers also authorized a study of the policies in effect at other Michigan fairs with respect to "free stickers" for exhibitors and employees, as a possible means of increasing revenues and controlling certain abuses in this area.

Attending the meeting were Kemp H. Brown, chairman, Munising, Erling Arntzen and R. E. Allingham, Escanaba, Carl P. Hansen of Wallace, Ralph C. Fuller of Newberry and LaPorte, secretary-manager.

Gladstone Youth Is County's 12th Traffic Victim

A Gladstone youth, Edward D. LaFave, 18, of 811 Delta Ave., became Delta County's 12th traffic fatality when the car he was a passenger in went out of control and rolled over about 4:45 a. m. today on U S. 2-41 at the entrance of Pioneer Trail Park.

State Police said the vehicle was being driven by George Brown, 23, of Rapid River. According to them, as the car traveled south it failed to make the curve in the road, went off the west side of the highway, knocked down six guardrail posts and rolled over.

They said that when the car rolled it threw both Brown and LaFave out of the vehicle. LaFave landed in the path of the car and it rolled over him. He was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Francis Hospital.

Brown was also taken to the hospital by ambulance and was in a state of shock. He suffered bruises and abrasions.

State Police are continuing their investigation of the accident.

LaFave's wife gave birth to a baby girl shortly before noon Monday. It was the couple's first child.

Edward LaFave was born Oct. 23, 1944 in Escanaba. He attended St. Anne's and the Escanaba High School. He served with the United States Army for about one year.

He was married to the former Laurie Shirk of Gladstone and had been employed at Marco's Restaurant.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert LaFave of Rte. 1, Escanaba three sisters, Mrs. Hugh (Rosemary) Ray of Kingsford, Mrs. John (Darlene) Bellefeuille of Escanaba, and Barbara Lynn at home; and two brothers, John of Escanaba and George in Grand Rapids.

The body was taken to the Allo Funeral Home where arrangements will be completed later today.

Caterpillar's Hairs Inflame Boy's Right Eye

Caterpillar hairs can be as painful as porcupine quills.

If you don't believe that, ask seven-year-old Curt Janofski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Janofski, Route 1, Skandia.

He's recuperating in St. Luke's Hospital in Marquette from a difficult operation in which seven caterpillar hairs were removed from his right eye.

The boy was playing with a caterpillar early last week and developed an inflammation of his eye. He was taken to the hospital, where the attending physician had to use a large microscope and work for about an hour to remove the hairs.

"The hairs are like thorns on a rosebush," the physician said. "They're exceedingly minute and they're barbed and they work their way into soft surfaces like porcupine quills do. If they're not removed from the eye, it develops a chronic inflammation. In aggravated cases, caterpillar hairs could cause impaired vision or even blindness."

Two of the caterpillar hairs were lodged deep in the Janofski boy's cornea, the physician said.

Voters Approve Jail Project By Margin Of 4-1

Property owners of Delta County overwhelmingly approved a proposal to levy 2 mills for one year as a means of raising the county's share of the needed funds for a new jail, when they went to the polls in a special election on Monday.

The unofficial tally of votes cast shows that 3,378 voted yes, as compared with 766 no votes. The issue carried in all of Delta County's 29 precincts.

Total cost of the project is about $354,000. The Federal Government has already authorized a grant of $177,000 under the Accelerated Public Works Act covering 50 per cent of the total construction costs.

Delta County's present jail is 75 years old and beyond repair. The State Department of Corrections has notified the county that a condemnation order would be forthcoming unless something was done to correct the situation.

Construction of the new facility, which will be erected on the property just to the north and adjacent to the present County Building, is expected to begin about Jan. 2, unless cold weather delays the starting date. The new jail will be built according to State specifications and is expected to take about one year.

The 2-mill levy, which was approved in Monday's election, will be levied on the 1963 tax rolls only. Based on the county's valuation of $77 million the tax monies raised would amount to about $154,000. This figure added to the $12,000 the county has already invested in plans and specifications amounts to $166,000, leaving an estimated $11,000 which would have to come from the county's general fund to meet the grant figure of $177,000.

The Building & Grounds Committee of the Delta County Board of Supervisors spearheaded the new jail project. Members of the committee includes: L. J. Jacobs, chairman, Jacob A. Bink, Phil Miron, Glenn Moreau and George Young and Frank Stupak, both of Gladstone.

A three - man committee handling the publicity promoting the issue to the voters was comprised of Phil Miron, Jacob A. Bink and William E. Butler, county clerk.

G. Arntzen Architects of Escanaba said today they expected bids on the project would be let in about eight weeks.

Voters Approve Jail Project By Margin Of 4-1

Property owners of Delta County overwhelmingly approved a proposal to levy 2 mills for one year as a means of raising the county's share of the needed funds for a new jail, when they went to the polls in a special election on Monday.

The unofficial tally of votes cast shows that 3,378 voted yes, as compared with 766 no votes. The issue carried in all of Delta County's 29 precincts.

Total cost of the project is about $354,000. The Federal Government has already authorized a grant of $177,000 under the Accelerated Public Works Act covering 50 per cent of the total construction costs.

Delta County's present jail is 75 years old and beyond repair. The State Department of Corrections has notified the county that a condemnation order would be forthcoming unless something was done to correct the situation.

Construction of the new facility, which will be erected on the property just to the north and adjacent to the present County Building, is expected to begin about Jan. 2, unless cold weather delays the starting date. The new jail will be built according to State specifications and is expected to take about one year.

The 2-mill levy, which was approved in Monday's election, will be levied on the 1963 tax rolls only. Based on the county's valuation of $77 million the tax monies raised would amount to about $154,000. This figure added to the $12,000 the county has already invested in plans and specifications amounts to $166,000, leaving an estimated $11,000 which would have to come from the county's general fund to meet the grant figure of $177,000.

The Building & Grounds Committee of the Delta County Board of Supervisors spearheaded the new jail project. Members of the committee includes: L. J. Jacobs, chairman, Jacob A. Bink, Phil Miron, Glenn Moreau and George Young and Frank Stupak, both of Gladstone.

A three - man committee handling the publicity promoting the Issue to the voters was comprised of Phil Miron, Jacob A. Bink and William E. Butler, county clerk.

G. Arntzen Architects of Escanaba said today they expected bids on the project would be let in about eight weeks.

Iron River Man Injured In Cave-In At Gravel Pit

IRON RIVER—Clifford Raymond, 54 of Iron River, narrowly escaped death Friday afternoon when he was buried to his shoulders in a cavein while operating a bulldozer in Iron River Township.

Raymond, alone at the time was buried with the tractor about 2:30 p. m. when overburden collapsed at a gravel pit owned by Bartley King, of Iron River.

Raymond attempted to free himself with one free arm, but was unable to make any headway because of the shifting earth.

About 45 minutes after the cavein, Harold Woempner, of Iron River, Raymond's truck driver, returned to the site, and found his employer trapped.

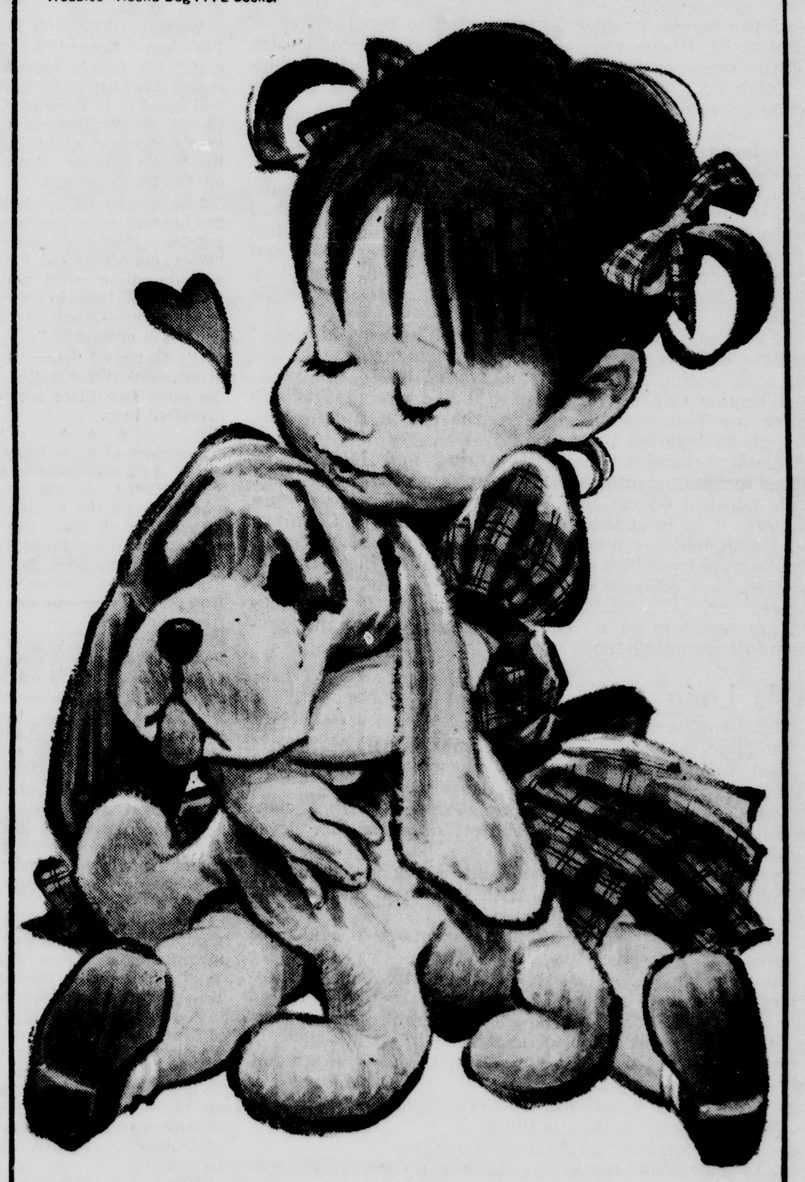

Woempner used a hand shovel to free Raymond, then took him to Stambaugh General Hospital.

Raymond suffered two fractures of the pelvis and numerous bruises. He was reported in satisfactory condition.

Jimmy Hoffa's Outlook

James Riddle Hoffa, the head of the nation's biggest union, the 1.7 million member Teamsters, came to the Upper Peninsula last week to dedicate the new headquarters of Local 328 in Escanaba. The union, which has jurisdiction in the Upper Peninsula and northern Wisconsin, was celebrating its 25th anniversary and its growth from a membership of 200 to one of about 3,000.

No other union has had such growth in the area. Some of the older unions have shrunk in membership with decline of employment in their crafts. The Teamsters have 17 trade divisions and Hoffa says they're growing in all of them, and especially in industry and in warehousing and supermarkets.

The Teamster appeal to membership apparently is its spectacular ability to get more than the going rate. It is in a highly strategic spot to do this because it has most of the trucking industry organized and as Hoffa said in three early months of this year the trucks moved more freight in the United States than the railroads.

Hoffa is a supremely pragmatical; he's out to take care of his union and fighting anyone who gets in the way. Asked if the union had any special regard for a depressed area — the UAW, for instance, took a 10 per cent pay cut for a year or more at a Menominee industry to help it survive— Hoffa said no, that the union wasn't responsible for the community and that if it lacked economic growth, that wasn't the union's fault and its members had to pay as much for groceries or houses or cars as in prosperous areas so they should get as much pay.

This logic is unassaliable as union self-interest and it is part of the cloth out of which the Teamsters have made their suit. "There is not a person in this room who is not looking for selfish self-preservation," said Hoffa to 500 Teamster diners. "You wouldn't be human unless you were."

This is the power struggle that underlies Hoffa's quarrel with government. Government is charged with the welfare of the whole society; he is devoted to the incomes of his union. If Hoffa were charged with responsibility for the entire economy instead of just that of the nation's biggest union he would have to take some new tacks and he could be expected to take them with bold venture.

★ ★ ★

He is an immensely able leader who keeps all of the directness of his old truck dock days in administering huge affairs. He has an immense respect for education — he says he makes up all his own speeches but has them researched carefully, "you make one mistake and you're dead" — but not much respect for many professors. He's a teetotaler and a voracious reader who believes the prophets of change so thoroughly that he's aiming his union for conditions in the year 2000.

He's 50 and maturing, but he probably keeps his great immediate effectiveness for the Teamsters because he remains such a single purpose man. Maybe he doesn't paraphrase Engine Charlie Wilson of GM and say that what's good for the Teamsters is good for the nation, but he acts as though he believed it.

Unionism changes like all other things and Hoffa is now devoting increasing millions of his huge resources to what he calls political education. Ostensibly for members of the Teamsters, it is intended to educate members of Congress more. Hoffa told his unionists that the gains of 25 years at the bargaining tables can be lost overnight in anti-union legislation. This collision was inevitable. Hoffa says that the President and his brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, are carrying on a vendetta but they're at the government's bargaining table.

Dinner On Stoop

In our constant endeavor to point out the changing aspects of life in America, the spotlight should now move to:

Meals on the Front Stoop.

For, you see, in addition to food coming to the dining room from the kitchen, it is now moving into an increasing number of homes through the front door.

In Houston, Texas, for example, 150 families have five-course meals delivered at dinner time six days a week.

In Miami, Fla., there are two firms which cater individual meals at the home. Each attends the needs of 2,000 families daily. It is especially popular in this city, due to Cuban refugees who were familiar with such a service, popular back home.

One-third of all U. S. married women, or more than 12 million, have jobs. This new development of meals on wheels can make their lives easier. For the aged and those on special diets and invalids, it would be a boon.

Even welfare people are looking into it. Under direction of the county health department, one county in Maryland is providing bring-in meals for 12 invalids. In New York a study is being made on similar service to elderly families under a grant from the U. S. Public Health Service.

"You Can Stay But He's Gotta Go!"

Washington Comment

WASHINGTON—(N E A)—President Kennedy's "trade czar," the former secretary of state, Masaschusetts governor and member of Congress Christian A. Herter, got off a nifty at the expense of his boss at the White House Conference on Export Expansion.

In a luncheon speech before 200 big business executives, Republican Herter declared that "We value highly the initiative and—to use a word which is heard from time to time in Washington — the vigor of American enterprise."

His text read "vigor" but he pronounced it naturally, with the same Bay State accent the President uses.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of State Dean Rusk got in a reverse-twist plug for the U. S. foreign aid program when he told the businessmen, "Expansion of trade has been one of the main objectives of our policy ever since Benjamin Franklin went abroad as our first ambassador—to get loans from our allies."

★ ★ ★

And Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, to illustrate the necessity for business and government working together on trade development, told a story about a couple celebrating their golden wedding anniversary with a lot of billing and cooing.

"Tell us," asked a pair of newlyweds who were helping the old couple celebrate, "what is your secret for a happy marriage?"

The old gaffer thought a minute and then replied: "I've always treated ma as though it would take more than a hot water bottle to replace her."

Asked what the government wanted private businessmen to do in meeting President Kennedy's new goal for a $2 billion or 10-per-cent-a-year increase in American exports, Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges replied:

"Get out and sell like h—"

★ ★ ★

Dr. Chalmers W. Sherwin, Defense Department deputy director of research and engineering, speaking to an assemblage of government and private military electronics specialists, recalled the great changes in science and electronics in the last 17 years.

He reminded them of the song "Take Away Your Billion Dollars," written in 1946 by physicist Art Roberts. In the first part of the song, said Sherwin, the physicists at a Washington meeting are being told of a plan to build a 10-billion-volt accelerator "on an ancient Army base." It was to cost $1 billion.

Everyone cheers except for one man who remains aloof, then rises and thunders forth: "With love and string and sealing wax

Was physics kept alive.
So let not the wealth of Midas
Hide the goal for which we strive.

Take away your billion dollars,
Take away your tainted gold,
You can keep your damned
Ten Billion volts,
My soul will not be sold."

Said Dr. Sherwin, "This was only 17 years ago, but how quaint sentiments like this sound to our ears today. Just imagine any physicist turning down a billion dollars for a super accelerator in 1963."

Princeton Has No Welcome Out For Gov. Barnett

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—When Mississippi's segregationist Gov. Ross Barnett arrives at Princeton University today he will find both the university and community welcome mats missing.

Barnett speaks tonight at the university as a guest of the Whig-Cliosophic Society, an undergraduate debating club.

Also scheduled are an anti-Barnett campus rally and picketing by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

When the society extended the invitation to Barnett, Princeton President Robert F. Goheen said the action was "untimely and ill considered."

Mayor Henry Patterson advised Princeton residents to ignore Barnett's visit.

Michael A. Pane IV, president of the Whig-Cliosophic Society, said Barnett had been invited because of the society's wish to prevent various political opinions.

"Fully 70 per cent of Michigan's Republican county chairmen want Goldwater," the Newsweek story said.

Auto Industry Boosts Quotas

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry, which has turned out half a million 1964 passenger cars already, stepped up its production quotas this week to meet expected customer demand.

The 500,000th car was built last Friday, making it the earliest date on which that figure had been reached in any model year.

With September output estimated at 550,000, the industry aimed at turning out 800,000 new cars in October.

General Motors had five of its assembly plants on overtime Saturday to meet dealer orders. Ford had six plants on overtime.

Chrysler, first of the auto makers to start turning out 1964 models, returned to a normal five-day week at normal assembly-line speed, while American Motors had its assembly lines at 80 per cent of capacity. It was still getting into full swing with its 1964 production schedules.

The trade publication, automotive News, estimated last week's output at 152,153 cars, a jump of almost 10,000 over the previous week.

GM accounted for about 51 per cent of production last week, with Ford getting 27. Chrysler had about 14; American Motors had 5; Studebaker was near 2 per cent.

Romney Explains Tax Relief Aims

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Romney flew north to campaign for his tax program today, after telling citizens in southeastern Michigan the program has something "for all the groups who need tax relief the most."

"Elderly citizens, local governments and school districts, businesses all get help, but they want even more," Romney said.

"This is a short-sighted attitude," he added. "They've got to make up their minds whether to support this program or whether to oppose it and perhaps get no relief at all."

At meetings in Pontiac, Royal Oak, East Detroit and Hamtramck Monday, the governor several times said "there seems ot be an organized effort" to discredit his tax reform program, especially its provisions for elderly citizens.

He encountered a series of compiaints against his proposal to permit low income, over65 citizens to defer payment of up to $200 a year in property taxes. The taxes would be collected from their estates under a lien imposed by the state.

While some citizens called the proposal "an attempt to make second class citizens out of old folks" and "a sledgehammer over senior citizens," Many elderly persons told the governor they supported his program.

Romney said state and local taxes paid by the average over-61 taxpayer would be cut by 80 per cent under his program's repeal of the sales tax on food and prescription drugs, 20 per cent reduction in school property taxes and $1,200 exemption for elderly citizens.

Royal Oak School Supt. Donald Currie suggested that school boards be authorized to levy non-property taxes.

"Because school boards must go to the taxpayers for millage above the 15-mill limit," he said, "school kids fall heir to all the hostility against taxes."

Romney contended that taxpayers would be more inclined to vote additional millage for schools if as he recommended, the state pays a 20 per cent share of school property taxes.

This, he said, would reduce the burden on taxpayers by $33.2 million in Wayne County, $10.4 million in Oakland County and $6.1 million in Macomb County.

Romney said he was pleased by the turnout of about 1,000 persons for the meetings.

The governor will spend today in the Upper Peninsula. He plans to visit St. Joseph, Benton Harbor, Holland, Muskegon and Grand Rapids Wednesday.

The Doctor Says:

Scarlet Fever's Eased

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q — How is scarlet fever transmitted? Can it be carried on postcards, letters, or by an adult who had the disease as a child?

A—Scarlet fever and the related diseases, septic sore throat and erysipelas, may be transmitted by direct contact with a person who has the disease or by a healthy person who harbors the hemolytic type of streptococcus in his nasal passages.

It is unlikely that transmission would occur through handling a postcard or letter, and it would not be transmitted by an adult who had had the disease unless he was a carrier.

The disease is not as severe as it was many years ago. Penicillin has done much to limit the duration of the illness, prevent the development of the carrier state and control the spread of the disease. Isolation of patients, formerly required for four weeks, is now required for only one week. The disinfection of bedding is readily accomplished by thorough cleaning and sunning. All in all, the disease is no longer a serious cause of death.

Q—For many years I have had attacks of blurred vision with zigzagging semicircles in front of my eyes. This lasts about half an hour and is followed by a severe headache. What causes this and is there any remedy?

A—You have given a perfect description of migraine. In some persons the episode of blurred vision is followed not only by a severe one - sided headache, but also by vomiting. Heredity or allergy may be factors in the cause, but in many victims no cauce can be found. A relatively new drug, methysergide (Sansert), is effective in preventing this type of headache. It can be obtained only on a doctor's prescription.

Q—For the past few years I have been taking tablets daily to control spasms in my chest muscles. What could cause these spasms? My doctor says there's nothing wrong with my heart.

A—Muscle spasms can occur anywhere in the body, but are not often seen in the chest muscles. If your doctor found nothing seriously wrong with you, nervous tension probably plays a large part in causing your spasms. If after several years of taking medicine to control them the spasms are still present, I think you should omit the tablets for a while and see whether they were really doing you any good. You can always go back to them again if necessary.

Q—Where can I obtain some pamphlets on the venereal diseases?

A—This is a subject of ever-increasing importance. You can get the information you want from the American Society Health Assn. (1790 Broadway, New York, N. Y. 10019). Also the United States Public Health Service puts out pamphlets which you can get through your city, county or state health department.

In Miami, Fla., there are two firms which cater individual meals at the home. Each attends the needs of 2,000 families daily. It is especially popular in this city, due to Cuban refugees who were familiar with such a service, popular back home.

One-third of all U. S. married women, or more than 12 million, have jobs. This new development of meals on wheels can make their lives easier. For the aged and those on special diets and invalids, it would be a boon.

Even welfare people are looking into it. Under direction of the county health department, one county in Maryland is providing bring-in meals for 12 invalids. In New York a study is being made on similar service to elderly families under a grant from the U. S. Public Health Service.

Washington Comment

WASHINGTON—(N E A)—President Kennedy's "trade czar," the former secretary of state, Masaschusetts governor and member of Congress Christian A. Herter, got off a nifty at the expense of his boss at the White House Conference on Export Expansion.

In a luncheon speech before 200 big business executives, Republican Herter declared that "We value highly the initiative and—to use a word which is heard from time to time in Washington — the vigor of American enterprise."

His text read "vigor" but he pronounced it naturally, with the same Bay State accent the President uses.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk got in a reverse-twist plug for the U. S. foreign aid program when he told the businessmen, "Expansion of trade has been one of the main objectives of our policy ever since Benjamin Franklin went abroad as our first ambassador—to get loans from our allies."

And Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, to illustrate the necessity for business and government working together on trade development, told a story about a couple celebrating their golden wedding anniversary with a lot of billing and cooing.

"Tell us," asked a pair of newlyweds who were helping the old couple celebrate, "what is your secret for a happy marriage?"

The old gaffer thought a minute and then replied: "I've always treated ma as though it would take more than a hot water bottle to replace her."

Asked what the government wanted private businessmen to do in meeting President Kennedy's new goal for a $2 billion or 10-per-cent-a-year increase in American exports, Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges replied:

Dr. Chalmers W. Sherwin, Defense Department deputy director of research and engineering, speaking to an assemblage of government and private military electronics specialists, recalled the great changes in science and electronics in the last 17 years.

He reminded them of the song "Take Away Your Billion Dollars," written in 1946 by physicist Art Roberts. In the first part of the song, said Sherwin, the physicists at a Washington meeting are being told of a plan to build a 10-billion-volt accelerator "on an ancient Army base." It was to cost $1 billion.

Everyone cheers except for one man who remains aloof, then rises and thunders forth: "With love and string and sealing wax

Was physics kept alive.
So let not the wealth of Midas
Hide the goal for which we strive.

Take away your billion dollars,
Take away your tainted gold,
You can keep your damned
Ten Billion volts,
My soul will not be sold."

Said Dr. Sherwin, "This was only 17 years ago, but how quaint sentiments like this sound to our ears today. Just imagine any physicist turning down a billion dollars for a super accelerator in 1963."

A jokester in the Navy suggests that it would be inappropriate to christen the Daniels with the traditional champagne. He recommends a carafe of coffee instead. For it was Daniels who laid down the rule that no Navy ship could serve liquor aboard.

Auto Industry Boosts Quotas

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry, which has turned out half a million 1964 passenger cars already, stepped up its production quotas this week to meet expected customer demand.

The 500,000th car was built last Friday, making it the earliest date on which that figure had been reached in any model year.

With September output estimated at 550,000, the industry aimed at turning out 800,000 new cars in October.

General Motors had five of its assembly plants on overtime Saturday to meet dealer orders. Ford had six plants on overtime.

Chrysler, first of the auto makers to start turning out 1964 models, returned to a normal five-day week at normal assembly-line speed, while American Motors had its assembly lines at 80 per cent of capacity. It was still getting into full swing with its 1964 production schedules.

The trade publication, automotive News, estimated last week's output at 152,153 cars, a jump of almost 10,000 over the previous week.

GM accounted for about 51 per cent of production last week, with Ford getting 27. Chrysler had about 14; American Motors had 5; Studebaker was near 2 per cent.

Princeton Has No Welcome Out For Gov. Barnett

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—When Mississippi's segregationist Gov. Ross Barnett arrives at Princeton University today he will find both the university and community welcome mats missing.

Barnett speaks tonight at the university as a guest of the Whig-Cliosophic Society, an undergraduate debating club.

Also scheduled are an anti-Barnett campus rally and picketing by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

When the society extended the invitation to Barnett, Princeton President Robert F. Goheen said the action was "untimely and ill considered."

Mayor Henry Patterson advised Princeton residents to ignore Barnett's visit.

Michael A. Pane IV, president of the Whig-Cliosophic Society, said Barnett had been invited because of the society's wish to prevent various political opinions.

Romney Explains Tax Relief Aims

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Romney flew north to campaign for his tax program today, after telling citizens in southeastern Michigan the program has something "for all the groups who need tax relief the most."

"Elderly citizens, local governments and school districts, businesses all get help, but they want even more," Romney said.

"This is a short-sighted attitude," he added. "They've got to make up their minds whether to support this program or whether to oppose it and perhaps get no relief at all."

At meetings in Pontiac, Royal Oak, East Detroit and Hamtramck Monday, the governor several times said "there seems ot be an organized effort" to discredit his tax reform program, especially its provisions for elderly citizens.

He encountered a series of complaints against his proposal to permit low income, over65 citizens to defer payment of up to $200 a year in property taxes. The taxes would be collected from their estates under a lien imposed by the state.

While some citizens called the proposal "an attempt to make second class citizens out of old folks" and "a sledgehammer over senior citizens," Many elderly persons told the governor they supported his program.

Romney said state and local taxes paid by the average over-61 taxpayer would be cut by 80 per cent under his program's repeal of the sales tax on food and prescription drugs, 20 per cent reduction in school property taxes and $1,200 exemption for elderly citizens.

Royal Oak School Supt. Donald Currie suggested that school boards be authorized to levy non-property taxes.

"Because school boards must go to the taxpayers for millage above the 15-mill limit," he said, "school kids fall heir to all the hostility against taxes."

Romney contended that taxpayers would be more inclined to vote additional millage for schools if as he recommended, the state pays a 20 per cent share of school property taxes.

This, he said, would reduce the burden on taxpayers by $33.2 million in Wayne County, $10.4 million in Oakland County and $6.1 million in Macomb County.

Romney said he was pleased by the turnout of about 1,000 persons for the meetings.

The governor will spend today in the Upper Peninsula. He plans to visit St. Joseph, Benton Harbor, Holland, Muskegon and Grand Rapids Wednesday.

The Doctor Says:

Scarlet Fever's Eased

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q — How is scarlet fever transmitted? Can it be carried on postcards, letters, or by an adult who had the disease as a child?

A—Scarlet fever and the related diseases, septic sore throat and erysipelas, may be transmitted by direct contact with a person who has the disease or by a healthy person who harbors the hemolytic type of streptococcus in his nasal passages.

It is unlikely that transmission would occur through handling a postcard or letter, and it would not be transmitted by an adult who had had the disease unless he was a carrier.

The disease is not as severe as it was many years ago. Penicillin has done much to limit the duration of the illness, prevent the development of the carrier state and control the spread of the disease. Isolation of patients, formerly required for four weeks, is now required for only one week. The disinfection of bedding is readily accomplished by thorough cleaning and sunning. All in all, the disease is no longer a serious cause of death.

Q—For many years I have had attacks of blurred vision with zigzagging semicircles in front of my eyes. This lasts about half an hour and is followed by a severe headache. What causes this and is there any remedy?

A—You have given a perfect description of migraine. In some persons the episode of blurred vision is followed not only by a severe one - sided headache, but also by vomiting. Heredity or allergy may be factors in the cause, but in many victims no cauce can be found. A relatively new drug, methysergide (Sansert), is effective in preventing this type of headache. It can be obtained only on a doctor's prescription.

Q—For the past few years I have been taking tablets daily to control spasms in my chest muscles. What could cause these spasms? My doctor says there's nothing wrong with my heart.

A—Muscle spasms can occur anywhere in the body, but are not often seen in the chest muscles. If your doctor found nothing seriously wrong with you, nervous tension probably plays a large part in causing your spasms. If atfer several years of taking medicine to control them the spasms are still present, I think you should omit the tablets for a while and see whether they were really doing you any good. You can always go back to them again if necessary.

Q—Where can I obtain some pamphlets on the venereal diseases?

A—This is a subject of ever-increasing importance. You can get the information you want from the American Society Health Assn. (1790 Broadway, New York, N. Y. 10019). Also the United States Public Health Service puts out pamphlets which you can get through your city, county or state health department.

Grand Valley College Opens

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Michigan's newest institution of higher learning—Grand Valley State College—opened for its first classes Monday.

Ultra-modern, Grand Valley State will be teaching its students with electronics as a big item in each day's studying.

From a study hall booth, a student will be able to dial televised tapes for lessons and research work.

As of now, the new college, situated on farm land along a scenic stretch of the Grand River 12 miles west of here, has only one building—Lake Michigan Hall.

Lake Michigan Hall, in keeping with the modern style, has a glass-enclosed second floor with balconies for outside study.

Goal Is 10,000

There were only 235 students as college opened. But by 1975 Grand Valley College expects to have 10,000.

Lake Superior Hall, a twin to Lake Michigan Hall, is to be ready by Thanksgiving Day.

Dr. James H. Zumberge, president, said until dormitories are built in 1965 Grand Valley will be a "commuter college."

Each classroom will have closed circuit television for the viewing of programs sent over the Telstar intercontinental communications system.

Students will be able to dial a central storage area for films and tape recordings.

Dr. Zumberge, former University of Michigan geologist who served on Antarctic expeditions, said there will be "literally thousands and thousands of feet of film" for students.

The college curriculum will concentrate on the liberal arts and teacher training.

Athletics Delayed

The faculty numbers 15, including eight who hold doctorates. By next fall it is expected to triple in size.

The school's master plan calls for maintenance of a small-college personality, no matter how big the ultimate enrollment or building space.

Separate buildings, usually four to a group, will serve as colleges-within-a-college. There will be about 500 students to each building group.

There won't be a gymnasium or a swimming pool until 1966.

As to athletics, Dr. Zumberge said "we'll take our time getting into intercollegiate competition."

"I'm not so certain we'll ever have a football team since there is no need for spectator sports," he said.

Besides state appropriations, Grand Valley State College has income from private foundations. These include the Seidman Foundation of Grand Rapids and the Loutit Foundation of Grand Haven.

Howard and Patricia Barr, duo-piano team, will play the first concert of the 1964-64 Delta County Community Concert Assn. series at 8.15 p. m. Thursday, Oct. 3, in William W. Oliver Auditorium.

Industrial Group To Help Finance Firm's Expansion

IRON MOUNTAIN — Members of the Dickinson County Industrial Development Corporation, voted unanimously to assist the Woodland Manufacturing Co., of 526 East Main St., Iron Mountain, in financing the construction of a new manufacturing plant, up to an amount of $43,000.

Work on construction of the new plant was to begin Monday, Sept. 30, on a site within the newly-designated industrial park near the north city limits of Iron Mountain.

The new plant, to measure 40 by 120 feet, will be of masonry block throughout and will comprise a main production area of 40 by 100 feet.

It will be the first new manufacturing plant in the industrial park recently created by action of the Iron Mountain city council. Enough space will remain in the 70-acre tract for at least 10 buildings of similar size. The area will be leased by Woodland Manufacturing from the City of Iron Mountain, with option to buy.

Woodland Manufacturing has been operating in the city continuously since 1946 and currently employs seven men. At least five more will be added when the new building is completed early in December of this year.

Although saw-handles have comprised the principal product of the plant for some time past, new lines of wooden houseware — chopping blocks, cutting boards, lazy-Susans, bowls and other items —will be included in the new catalog.

North Western To End Ownership In Gulf Mobile RR

The Chicago & North Western Railway Co. announces that it had sold the bulk of its investment in the Gulf Mobile & Ohio Railroad and is completing sale of the rest promptly.

A spokesman said the sale did not reflect in any way dissatisfaction with or loss of confidence in the management of the Gulf Mobile & Ohio or its prospects. The spokesman said the North Western was irrevocably committed to its exchange offer for the control of the Rock Island and to its ultimate unification with the North Western.

The North Western a year ago reported it had acquired 135,128 shares of the common stock of the Gulf Mobile & Ohio.

Cotton Fills In What God Forgot

Dear Ann Landers: I enjoyed the letter from the flat-chested school teacher who "filled in with cotton what God had forgotten.' It was an amusing letter and seemed to make sense when I read it, but now I'm not so sure.

I'm a fairly attractive 18-year-old girl—another one of those whom "God has forgotten." I have been tempted many times to go to a lingerie store and buy myself an improved figure, but one thing holds me back. What effect would such deception have on a husband when he learned he had been tricked? Would he feel cheated and hold this trickery against his wife? I hope my letter doesn't sound too stupid to print. I really would like an answer.—READY FOR STUFFING

Dear Ready: No real man would attach any importance to this hole cotton pickin' issue.

Go to the lingerie shop, Honey, and take care of what God has forgotten.

Dear Ann Landers: What can I do about a 46-year-old wife who thinks she's a teenager?

Our 17-year-old daughter is a sensible, popular gal whose friends, both boys and girls, enjoy congregating in our rumpus room. We are not objecting—in fact, we're happy to have them here, but I do believe that my wife should not hang around (wearing Capri pants and a low-cut blouse) the entire evening and behave like one of the kids.

My wife is an excellent dancer and is up on all the latest, but our daughter tells me she finds it embarrassing when her mother does the mashed potato and the horse, the rabbit, the monkey and the rest of those foolish dances.

My wife insists she is really chaperoning the kids without letting them know it. I would like your views on this. Thank you. — TWINKLE TOES' HUSBAND

Dear Husband: Chaperoning my eye. Your wife is reliving her girlhood and giving that 17-year-old a run for her money.

Parents SHOULD be at home when their teeagers entertain but they should not plunk themselves in the middle of the group and try to be one of them.

Mothers who are young in appearance, and lively hoofers as well, should make every effort to cut down the voltage in the presence of their daughters' boy friends. Often without realizing it, they are competing with their daughters and this spells deep trouble.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married for 30 years to a man who is turning into an over-sexed alcoholic.

He drinks almost a case of beer every night and even more on weekends. When I tell him he is becoming an alcoholic he points to his work-record (he has not missed a day in six years) and insists that people cannot be alcoholics if they stick to beer and work regularly.

I admit it's amazing that his work-record is so good. I also find it amazing that he can be so amorous just before he passes out—which he does almost every night.

Is it possible that he is right and I am wrong? Can it be that a person who drinks only beer is safe from alcoholism even if he does pass out regularly? He says beer makes him feel good but he insists he has never been drunk in his life. How about this. — AGGRAVATED EDNA

Dear Aggravated: Your husband is full of hops. Beer contains alcohol and a person can get knee-walking drunk on three bottles or less—depending on his threshold of tolerance.

Beer drunks are especially difficult to help because they usually deny that they are alcoholics. And there is no help for a person who refuses to admit that drinking is a problem.

Democratic Women's Club Names Officers

At its last monthly meeting, the Delta County Democratic Women's Club elected the following officers for the coming year: Mrs. Rodger (Verna) Murray, president; Mrs. James E. (Dorothy) Anderson, first vice-president; Mrs. Robert (Nina) Whatley, second vice-president; Mrs. Irwin (Dympna) Cashin, secretary; Mrs. Rod (Babe) Hanley, treasurer.

During the program Atty. James Chapekis, Delta County Democratic chairman, outlined the provisions of the new precinct delegates bill which, among other things, empowers the precinct delegates to elect six members of the party's County Executive Committee who, will in turn have a hand in electing the County's party chairman beginning in 1964. He stressed the importance of urging well-qualified Democrats to accept nomination as precinct delegates in every one of the County'es precincts. In the future precinct delegates' names will be printed on the ballot, which is also a change for Delta County.

(Dorothy) Anderson, first vice-president; Mrs. Robert (Nina) Whatley, second vice-president; Mrs. Irwin (Dympna) Cashin, secretary; Mrs. Rod (Babe) Hanley, treasurer.

Plans were made for the meeting to be held Oct. 10, for the Dollars for Democrats fund drive Oct. 24 to 27, and for the annual Christmas sale to be held Friday, Dec. 13.

The group voted to hold all regular meetings on the second Thursday of the month, to award a hand-made "surprise" prize at each regular meeting, to sell baked goods, gift items and Christmas decorations at the December sale and to devote the October meeting to a discussion of handicraft items for the sale.

During the program Atty. James Chapekis, Delta County Democratic chairman, outlined the provisions of the new precinct delegates bill which, among other things, empowers the precinct delegates to elect six members of the party's County Executive Committee who, will in turn have a hand in electing the County's party chairman beginning in 1964. He stressed the importance of urging well-qualified Democrats to accept nomination as precinct delegates in every one of the County'es precincts. In the future precinct delegates' names will be printed on the ballot, which is also a change for Delta County.

Climb Of U.S. Deficit Halted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States appears to have put the brakes on the steep climb of its international payments deficit, Secretary of the Treasury C. Douglas Dillon told the world's finance ministers today.

The deficit—the difference between what Uncle Sam spends abroad and what he takes in—set a record of $3.9 billion in 1960, eased down to $2.2 billion in 1962, then set off alarm bells by soaring to an annual rate of $4.2 billion in the first half of 1963.

In an address prepared for the annual meeting of governing boards of the International Monetary Fund and World Bank, Dillon explained the administration's taking steps to reduce the flow of dollars and he added:

Group Visits Forest Areas

MARQUETTE—The national policy advisors and technical resource people for the U. S. Department of Agriculture left Marquette today with the deepened respect for the economic and tourist potential of the region, the results of a two-day visit to the community.

The national agricultural advisory committee, holding an annual field meeting in the Lakes States forest experiment station area, chose Marquette for its focal point and made bus trips into the various forest stations.

The Marquette Chamber of Commerce with the cooperation of industrial firms helped bring the committee and Upper Peninsula forest products personnel together for the exchange of ideas.

All members of the group were delighted with the color feature of their tour and with about 45 cameras clicking there will be ample advertising for the Upper Peninsula when the visitors return to their homes.

The National Advisory Committee of 11 members had eight present for the meeting. They came from Maine and New York to Washington and California. Their technical resource people came from several of the forest experiment stations, the majority from the lake states and from Washington.

Dr. E. C. Elting, Washington, D. C., deputy administrator for agricultural research service, chairman of the committee, expressed the appreciation of the group for the "marvelous display of friendship and hospitality."

He said the committee had never been given such an opportunity to learn about the potential of an area it has visited. The advisory committee this year chose to work its field trips with the forest research committee, but it also works with groups specializing in natural resources, marketing and utilization of agricultural commodities.

The group flew into Marquette Sunday and left today for Wisconsin.

Key Legislation Lags In Senate

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Admirers of the United States Senate like to call it the greatest deliberative body in the world.

Less enthusiastic observers have been known to agree only that it is the most deliberate.

In any event, it is taking its time with the big tax reduction bill that President Kennedy dedeclared last January — nearly nine months ago — "is urgently needed to spur the growth of our economy."

The bill, which Kennnedy has called "the most important domestic economic measure to come before Congress in the last 15 years," may even get sidetracked until next year.

The 11-billion ttax cut has passed the House. The Senate probably will not take it up until after it has disposed of the Kennedy administration's civil rights proposals.

Congress is under heavy pressure on the civil rights issue, and the House may pass a bill within the next few weeks.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Sept. 14 that he intended to take whatever civil rights bill the House does pass, put it on the Senate calendar, and then call it up for debate as soon as possible.

That would mean a filibuster by Southern senators that could last no one knows how long.

Mansfield also said then that if the Senate can act on the tax measure this year, it probably measure this year, it probably will be the last bill brought up.

Mansfield laid down the civil rights priority before the killing of four Negro girls by a dynamiter in a Birmingham, Ala., church —a deed that added to already strong demands for action now.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., predicted last week that "this do-nothing Congress" would fail to pass civil rights legislation this year. He called for a national "black revolution" to win rights for Negroes.

The administration has been plugging for action this year on both civil rights and tax reduction.

A growing number in the Senate, however, say it can't handle both, that there just isn't time.

For example, this past weekend, Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., each said it would be physically impossible to pass both, that President Kennedy must decide which he wants.

Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and John J. Williams, R-Del., said they would like to see the tax bill delayd until January, after the administration submits its new annual spending budget.

Williams said he would be willing for the measure, whenever it is passed, to be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1964, the date set by the House for the first cuts to take effect.

This possibility of making the cuts date back to Jan. 1 could undermine arguments on the need for speed.

President Asks For Job Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

MANPOWER: President Kennedy has launched a major study of the nation's manpower aimed at "large savings in lives and dollars."

Naming three members of his Cabinet and Selective Service Director Lewis Hershey to a task force to find out why so many young Americans are rejected by the draft, Kennedy said Monday:

"A young man who does not have what it takes to perform military service is not likely to have what it takes to make a living."

The Cabinet members are Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, chairman; Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of Welfare Anthony Celebrezze.

Kennedy said one out of three young men is turned down by draft boards.

AID: An employe of the Agency for International Development who charged he was "railroaded out of the agency" last year and then restored to his job is resigning, saying he was sent into "exile."

Jerry M. Jackis of Charleston, S. C., said the 1962 squabble stemmed from his revelations of mingled U. S. and Soviet aid in a Cambodian hospital project.

Jackis said when he returned to the avency after a congressional investigation of the hospital incident, AID officials refused to give him an overseas assignment and assigned him to a desk job that had "absolutely no connection to my long experience and investigating ability."

Jackis, whose resignation is effective today, had been with the government in AID and variohs other agencies for 13 years.

First showings: the 1964 Lincoln Continental.
Discover the greater spaciousness behind its classic profile.

When you inspect the new Continental you will discover why more than half the people who buy in our price range choose the Continental.

Notice the greater passenger room.

Come in, and inspect the new Continental yourself. Its profile is only three inches longer than in 1961-2-3. Yet you will find a roomier rear compartment, with four inches more leg room and 2.5 inches more knee room than in 1963. This makes for twice the knee room of the 1961 and 1962 Continental. And the luggage compartment is 15% larger, for a total increase of 33% over 1961-2.

But with all this added space, the Continental retains all the qualities that set it apart from every other automobile:

1. Timeless styling is a prime reason the Continental retains so high a value.
2. The Continental is available in just two models: the sedan and the convertible. There are no lower priced models, because there is no compromise of its standards to offer lesser versions.
3. Both the sedan and the convertible have four doors opening at the center for the easiest entrance. Continental offers the only American four-door convertible.
4. The unusual rigidity of integral construction contributes to its unequaled ride.
5. Within, virtually every luxury is included as standard equipment.
6. The Continental also includes full power auxiliaries as standard equipment.
7. The Continental is built at Wixom, Michigan, in a special plant which sets the world's highest standards of precision automotive engineering.
8. No other car is so thoroughly tested. Every Continental must pass 189 road performance tests in addition to thousands of examinations and inspections during manufacture.
9. The Continental is uniquely free from maintenance. It is constructed to last.

Climb Of U.S. Deficit Halted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States appears to have put the brakes on the steep climb of its international payments deficit, Secretary of the Treasury C. Douglas Dillon told the world's finance ministers today.

The deficit—the difference between what Uncle Sam spends abroad and what he takes in—set a record of $3.9 billion in 1960, eased down to $2.2 billion in 1962, then set off alarm bells by soaring to an annual rate of $4.2 billion in the first half of 1963.

In an address prepared for the annual meeting of governing boards of the International Monetary Fund and World Bank, Dillon explained the administration's taking steps to reduce the flow of dollars and he added:

Group Visits Forest Areas

MARQUETTE—The national policy advisors and technical resource people for the U. S. Department of Agriculture left Marquette today with the deepened respect for the economic and tourist potential of the region, the results of a two-day visit to the community.

The national agricultural advisory committee, holding an annual field meeting in the Lakes States forest experiment station area, chose Marquette for its focal point and made bus trips into the various forest stations.

The Marquette Chamber of Commerce with the cooperation of industrial firms helped bring the committee and Upper Peninsula forest products personnel together for the exchange of ideas.

All members of the group were delighted with the color feature of their tour and with about 45 cameras clicking there will be ample advertising for the Upper Peninsula when the visitors return to their homes.

The National Advisory Committee of 11 members had eight present for the meeting. They came from Maine and New York to Washington and California. Their technical resource people came from several of the forest experiment stations, the majority from the lake states and from Washington.

Dr. E. C. Elting, Washington, D. C., deputy administrator for agricultural research service, chairman of the committee, expressed the appreciation of the group for the "marvelous display of friendship and hospitality."

He said the committee had never been given such an opportunity to learn about the potential of an area it has visited. The advisory committee this year chose to work its field trips with the forest research committee, but it also works with groups specializing in natural resources, marketing and utilization of agricultural commodities.

The group flew into Marquette Sunday and left today for Wisconsin.

Key Legislation Lags In Senate

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Admirers of the United States Senate like to call it the greatest deliberative body in the world.

Less enthusiastic observers have been known to agree only that it is the most deliberate.

In any event, it is taking its time with the big tax reduction bill that President Kennedy dedeclared last January — nearly nine months ago — "is urgently needed to spur the growth of our economy."

The bill, which Kennnedy has called "the most important domestic economic measure to come before Congress in the last 15 years," may even get sidetracked until next year.

The 11-billion ttax cut has passed the House. The Senate probably will not take it up until after it has disposed of the Kennedy administration's civil rights proposals.

Congress is under heavy pressure on the civil rights issue, and the House may pass a bill within the next few weeks.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Sept. 14 that he intended to take whatever civil rights bill the House does pass, put it on the Senate calendar, and then call it up for debate as soon as possible.

That would mean a filibuster by Southern senators that could last no one knows how long.

Mansfield also said then that if the Senate can act on the tax measure this year, it probably measure this year, it probably will be the last bill brought up.

Mansfield laid down the civil rights priority before the killing of four Negro girls by a dynamiter in a Birmingham, Ala., church —a deed that added to already strong demands for action now.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., predicted last week that "this do-nothing Congress" would fail to pass civil rights legislation this year. He called for a national "black revolution" to win rights for Negroes.

The administration has been plugging for action this year on both civil rights and tax reduction.

A growing number in the Senate, however, say it can't handle both, that there just isn't time.

For example, this past weekend, Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., each said it would be physically impossible to pass both, that President Kennedy must decide which he wants.

Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and John J. Williams, R-Del., said they would like to see the tax bill delayd until January, after the administration submits its new annual spending budget.

Williams said he would be willing for the measure, whenever it is passed, to be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1964, the date set by the House for the first cuts to take effect.

This possibility of making the cuts date back to Jan. 1 could undermine arguments on the need for speed.

President Asks For Job Study

WASHINGTON (AP)--In the news from Washington:

MANPOWER: President Kennedy has launched a major study of the nation's manpower aimed at "large savings in lives and dollars."

Naming three members of his Cabinet and Selective Service Director Lewis Hershey to a task force to find out why so many young Americans are rejected by the draft, Kennedy said Monday:

"A young man who does not have what it takes to perform military service is not likely to have what it takes to make a living."

The Cabinet members are Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, chairman; Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of Welfare Anthony Celebrezze.

Kennedy said one out of three young men is turned down by draft boards.

AID: An employe of the Agency for International Development who charged he was "railroaded out of the agency" last year and then restored to his job is resigning, saying he was sent into "exile."

Jerry M. Jackis of Charleston, S. C., said the 1962 squabble stemmed from his revelations of mingled U. S. and Soviet aid in a Cambodian hospital project.

Jackis said when he returned to the avency after a congressional investigation of the hospital incident, AID officials refused to give him an overseas assignment and assigned him to a desk job that had "absolutely no connection to my long experience and investigating ability."

Jackis, whose resignation is effective today, had been with the government in AID and variohs other agencies for 13 years.

MANISTIQUE

The engineering staff of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co., has been expanded to include Henry Ryll, second from right, formerly of Abitibi Corp., who heads the department, and Harley Hartwig, right, who has been with Western Michigan University's pulp and paper section. With them is Frank S. Hoholik, president of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co., and Leif Christensen, technical director.

Paper Mill Adds Engineers To Staff

The addition of two men, Henry Ryll and Harley Hartwig, to the engineering staff of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co. is announced by Frank S. Hoholik, president.

"We are very happy to add these two young men with their fine engineering skills to the staff," Hoholik said.

Ryll heads the expanding engineering department at the mill and formerly was with Abitibi Power and Paper Co. nine years. He lived in England from 1946 until 1954, when he moved to Canada. Ryll is 37 and a graduate of Portsmouth College of Technology in Portsmouth, England, with a degree in mechanical engineering and has diplomas in aircraft design, gas and steam turbine design, pulp and paper engineering and pulp and paper making.

He is married and has two children, who will come from Sault Ste. Marie when housing is arranged.

Hartwig 42, who will be assistant superintendent of production is a paper technology graduate of Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo and was employed there as project engineer for pilot studies. He also worked in Cuba in erection and operation of a gasse paper plant, which made paper from the fiber of sugar cane. Hartwig and his wife left in the rise of Castro, just after the march on Havana. He also worked for the Ward Paper Co. in Merrill, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartwig will live on West Lake Shore drive. She has left for Kalamazoo to conclude a business career there and will return in a week.

Mr. Hartwig is a member of the Technical Assn. of the Pulp and Paper Industry. Mr. Ryll is a member of the American Society of Professional Engineers and the Association of Professional Engineers of Ontario.

The two join an engineering staff which also includes Leif Christensen, technical director. Christensen, a graduate of Manistique High School, worked summers for the paper mill while attending Michigan College of Mining and Technology. After graduation, with a degree in chemical engineerng, he was sent by the mill to Western Michigan University, for a one year study in all courses offered in the papermaking curriculum. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford (Kelly) Christensen.

The mill has been operating almost continuously seven days a week, since the explosion this summer which knocked out the mill's pulp storage tank. A storage building is now being constructed to replace the old buildin gwhich was damaged at that time. Other activity includes repairs to the flume.

Yanks Favored; Alston Denies Koufax Rumor

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK AP)—The odds favoring the New York Yankees by 7½-5 returned to normal today as did the reports on the temperature of Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers' brilliant left-hander who will pitch the World Series opener at Yankee Stadium Wednesday against Whitey Ford.

The odds began to fluctuate as rumors flew that Koufax, who posted a 25-5 record during the season, had come down with the flu. When the Dodgers arrived in New York late Monday night, Koufax said he never had the flu, only a slight cold.

"It's all over now," said Koufax.

Dodger Manager Walter Alston, asked about Koufax' cold, said briskly: "Tell them he'll pitch."

While Alston was expressing no doubts about his pitching ace, he was concerned about two others, third baseman Ken McMullen and veteran left-hander Johnny Podres, who became a questionable second game starter.

McMullen pulled a hamstring muscle last Thursday and has not played since. Alston thinks the youngster will be able to start but if he cannot, Jim Gilliam will switch over to third base and Dick Tracewski, a light-hitting, good-fielding reserve, will open at second base.

Alston was highly vexed with Podres' pitching performance against Philadelphia Saturday night. The 30-year-old left-hander, who shut out the Yankees in the final game of the 1955 World Series, was pounded for eight runs and 12 hits in 2 2-3 innings. Included were two home runs.

The Dodgers' late arrival enabled the Yankees to engage in a long workout during which Ford, lefty Al Downing and right-hander Jim Bouton took long turns pitching. The trio is expected to start all the games, even if the series goes th seven-game limit.

"Ford and Downing will pitch the first and second games here," said Yankee Manager Ralph Houk at the end of the workout. "It will be Bouton in the third game in Los Angeles."

"The club is in the best condition it's been all year," Houk said. "Mickey Mantle is running better than at any time since he got hurt and Roger Maris' back doesn't seem to be bothering him now."

Gil Mains Files Big Damage Suit

DETROIT AP—Former tackle Gil Mains of the Detroit Lions brought a $250,000 damage suit Monday against the National Football League club, a hospital and the team physican, alleging improper treatment of a knee injury suffered in 1961.

The suit, filed in Wayne Detroit County Circuit Court, named Detroit Osteopathic Hospital and Dr. Richard A. Thompson, team physician, as co-defendants with the football club

Mains hurt his left knee in a game between the Lions and the San Francisco 49ers Oct. 1, 1961. He was treated at the hospital and later taken to the University of Michigan Medical Center for surgery.

Mains said he had three operations on the knee and is crippled permanently.

Harder Is Fired After 36 Years With Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Baseballs take funny bounces, too. Ask Mel Harder, who was fired as Cleveland pitching coach and replaced by Early Wynn, the man he taught to pitch so well.

Harder was an institution in Cleveland—until Monday. Then Gabe Paul, the Indians' general manager, fired Harder, 53, who had been with Cleveland for 36 years, a record tenure in baseball.

The man Paul turned to was Wynn, 43, who came back this year to win his 300th major league game—and did it, although he lost two games along the way.

"Early was reluctant to take the position with us only because he didn't want anyone to think he was seeking Mel's job," said Manager Birdie Tebbetts.

"I simply told Early that Mel wasn't going to be with us next year in any case. And that if, he wouldn't accept the offer to become our pitching coach, we'd bring in somebody else."

Harder joined the Indians in 1928 and posted a 223-186 record in 20 seasons as a Tribe pitcher. He was a player-coach in 1947, but had dvoted full time to teaching since the 1948 season, when the Indians became world champions.

"I'm checking out a few clubs," he said. "About four years ago, the Yankees and White Sox offerd me a coaching position. Maybe somebody will want me now."

The Indians didn't give any rasons for the firing, but it's no secret that the front office has been unhappy about the Cleveland pitching staff.

Wynn is being taken off the active roster and his pitching days probably are over. "It's not in his mind or mine to reactivate him," said Tebbetts.

Oklahoma Jumps To First Place In College Poll

By JOHN CHANDLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Oklahoma Sooners, who have gone through a seven-year drought since their last championship team, took over first place by a landslide today in the second Associated Press weekly poll of the nation's Top Ten football teams.

Oklahoma, which defeated the 1962 national champion Southern California Trojans Saturday 17-12 in blistering 105-degree heat at Los Angeles, vaulted from third to the No. 1 rating by polling 36 of the 53 first-place votes from a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

The Trojans, who received 23 first-place votes a week ago, skidded to eighth place. Arkansas, No. 8 last week, dropped out after being defeated by Missouri 7-6.

While Alabama remained in the challenging No. 2 spot, and other teams were slightly juggled in the ratings, Mississippi edged back into the picture at the No. 10 spot after blasting Kntucky 31-7. Ole Miss, rated No. 2 in the opening poll, had dropped from the first ten after being held to a scoreless tie by Memphis State.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Oklahomans, who ranked No. 8 in the 1962 final season poll, received 495 points in the latest concensus, based on 10 points for first, nine for second, etc.

The top ten, with first-place votes in parentheses:

2.Alabama (9)	402

Rubick May Be Held Out For One Year

The football coaching staff at Michigan State University is considering the possibility of holding Ron Rubick, halfback from Manistique, out of action this fall to preserve his final year of eligibility.

Rubick suffered a knee injury which required corrective surgery last spring. He was used sparingly in fall practice drills in an effort to determine if the muscles of the leg have returned to full strength.

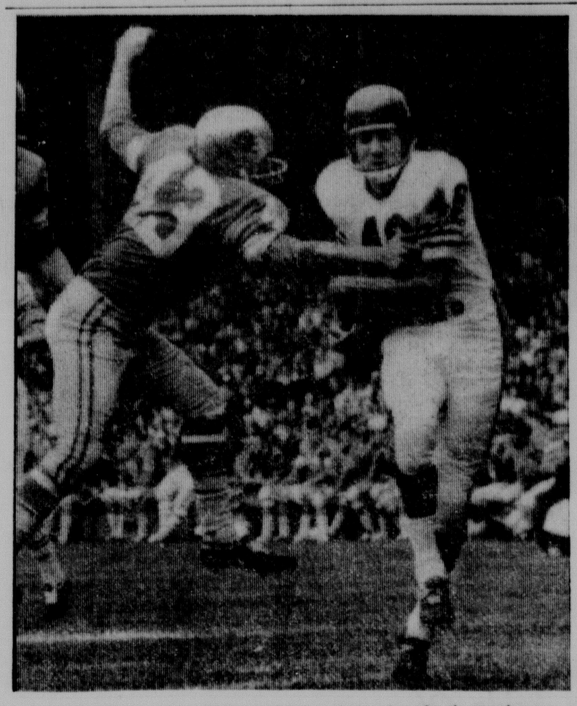

The Spartan coaching staff is expected to make a decision at a meeting next week. If he plays this year, MSU officials hope to have him ready by the Michigan game Oct. 12.

Rubick, the all-time Upper Peninsula prep football scoring champion with 184 points in his senior year at Manistique, was Michigan State's leading runner until sidelined by the injury last fall.

Red Hickey Out, Christiansen In As 49er's Coach

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Red Hickey is out, Jack Christiansen is in but the question is the same: Can the San Francisco 49ers win in the National Football League.

Hickey, the fiery redhead who starred at Arkansas and played end for the Los Angeles Rams, quit Monday in the wake of a 45-14 loss to the Minnesota Vikings.

Hours later Jack Christiansen, out of Colorado State and a six-year All-Pro with the Detroit Lions defensive secondary, was named in Hickey's place. Christiansen joined the 49ers in 1958 as coach for the defensive backs, the same season Hickey took over as head man, relieving Frankie Albert.

Hickey said he had considered the move for a couple of weeks "unless we started winning." The loss string stands at 10 straight—two from last year's regular campaign, five exhibition games and three regular games this year.

When the Vikings buried his apparently demoralized squad Sunday in Minnesota, Hickey told President Vic Morabito he wanted out now. Morabito announced tersely Hickey's resignation was accepted.

Later, at a news conference, Morabito emphasized Christiansen's appointment was for only the remaining 11 games this year. He denied he was thinking in terms of Paul Brown or Y. A. Tittle for the future as the possible 49er head man.

Brown was ousted by the Cleveland Browns last year and is said to be smarting to get another shot in the NFL. Tittle was traded by Hickey to the New York Giants because "he was obsolete." Since then Tittle has become the Giants' mainstay and 49er fans have been riding Hickey for letting him get away.

Christiansen, now 34, said the current 49ers had some good players and that hustle could produce some victories. He said he would use basically the same system.

To 49er fans it was all a familiar story. After 14 seasons, the 49ers have not yet as much as won a divisional title in the NFL. Ticket sales are down, the fans who show up boo lustily and quarterback John Brodie has a sore arm.

St. Cloud Next For Tech Squad

HOUGHTON—After disposing NIC champion Winona State 16-14, Michigan Tech's young Huskies now focus their sifhts on pass-minded St. Cloud.

The Techmen, 1-0 in NIC play and 2-1 overall, will meet St. Cloud State at Houghton Oct. 5. Tech leads in the seven game series that began in 1951, 5-1-1. Last year the two played to a 12-12 tie.

At Winona the Huskies exploded their wide-running game for two quick first quarter scores to take a 16-0 lead. They marched 50 yards for the first and then recovered Winona's kickoff fumble on the seven to set up the second TD.

Freshman fullback Paul Butkovich, Houghton, playing in place of injured regular Ron Matestic, slashed over for both scores. Quarterback Ralph Abata, Kinksford, passed to Doug King, Wakefield, and to Dave Thompson, Wauwatosa, for the two point conversions.

Coach Lucier reported his squad came out of the Winona game in good shape and should be ready to go full blast against St. Cloud.

Wolverines Face Tough Navy Foe

ANN ARBOR AP — Navy's line is good size, its backs are fast, and quarterback Roger Staubach is a true All-America quarterback.

Those are the words of warning from Michigan end coach Jack Nelson, who scouted the Middies in their 51-7 rout of West Virginia and their 28-0 triumph over William & Mary.

The Wolverines will engage Navy in Michigan Stadium on Saturday. Although the Wolverines worked out only lightly on Monday, they were expected to get plenty of drills on pass defense Tuesday and the rest of the week in preparing for the aerials of Staubach.

Staubach pitched for 206 yards and completed 12 of 17 passes in the victory over William & Mary. Along with 91 yards rushing, he set a Navy individual record of 297 total yards.

Michigan was vulnerable to passing in its opening game, 27-16 triumph over Southern Methodist. SMU completed 15 of 27 passes for 253 yards.

The champion Yankees won their season series with the Detroit Tigers, 10 games to 8.

Packers' Errors Puzzle Lombardi

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi is a puzzled man. He is unable to explain the sudden outbreak of game errors by the Packers as they strive for a third straight National Football League championship.

"I can't understand it," Lombardi said Monday in reviewing statistics of the Packers' two victories and one defeat.

"We've been a team that has made very few mental and physical mistakes. This year we have had a flock of them. If we continue like this, it's going to catch up with us. We've been stopping ourselves and this must end."

En route to the NFL title with a 13-1 season record last year, the Packers had the fewest passes intercepted — a mere 13 — and lost the ball on fumbles just 15 times. In three games this season, they have surrendered the ball on nine interceptions and five fumbles.

Green Bay gave up three fumbles and two pass interceptions Sunday, but managed to pull out a 31-20 victory over Baltimore.

Willie Davis, an All-League selection as a defensive end, said he thought the Packrs may be "going into games a little tight."

"We're trying to overdo this this thing," Davis said. "We've always been a closely knit team. The mere fact that the offense is experiencing some difficulty means we're just going to have to hang in there tougher.

"We've got to feel that they're going to get rolling. It's only a matter of time."

The Packers are tied with the Minnesota Vikings, a game behind Chicago's undefeated Bears, in the Western Division. Lombardi is satisfied with his team's standing — although unhappy with the flock of mistakes by his offense.

Lowe Undergoes Tendon Surgery

DETROIT AP—Detroit Lions defensive safetyman Gary Lowe was to undergo surgery today for repair of a torn Achilles tendon on his left foot and apparently will be lost for the season.

Lowe, 29, in his seventh season with Detroit, suffered the injury in Sunday's game against the Chicago Bears. Lowe said the tendon "just gave way" as he ran down field following a play. He was taken to a hospital at Ann Arbor.

The Lions also announced that half back Larry Ferguson and defensive end Darris McCord were nursing bruised knees. It was not immediately determined whether either would miss next Sunday's game with the San Francisco '49ers.

Coaches Rap New Sub Rule

SAN FRANCISCO (AP — California football Coach Marv Levy likes the new substitution rule. This is what you call news.

Seems he's the only coach in the state who does.

University of the Pacific coach John Rohde calls the new rule "stupid and idiotic."

Southern California Coach John McKay declares:

"We are through with the three-unit system. We cannot use it under the new rule."

John Ralston of Stanford says flatly he favors returning to unlimited substitution rules of a few years ago.

The new rule restricts substitutions on first and fourth downs, and when the clock is moving. It has eliminated the long lines of players who checked in with officials last season. So officials are not bookkeepers any more.

McKay made his criticisms known at the weekly meeting of Southern California football writers and coaches. The rest of the coaches vented their feelings in the Northern California counterpart luncheon meeting in San Francisco.

Levy admitted fans and coaches may want a return to the free substitution rule used by the professionals. But he said a player "gets more out of football if he goes both ways."

Banks Was Ill During Season

CHICAGO AP—Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs' slugging first baseman, figures to be as good as new when the 1964 season rools around.

Banks, one of the Cubs' all-time sluggers, suffered the worst season of his 10-year career during 1963 when he finished with a .227 average with 18 home runs and 64 runs batted in.

The 32-year-old Banks was out of the Cub line-up during the final month of the season.

Extensive examinations by Dr. Jacob Suker, the club physician, revealed that Banks had a subclinical mumps condition in addition to a blood infection. It all meant that Banks was run down.

"I'll be ready when the whistle blows next season," said Banks.

McHan is an ex-Chicago Cardinal and Green Bay Packer who played the last two seasons at Baltimore. He had been put on waivers last week.

Yanks Favored; Alston Denies Koufax Rumor

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK AP)—The odds favoring the New York Yankees by 7½-5 returned to normal today as did the reports on the temperature of Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodgers' brilliant left-hander who will pitch the World Series opener at Yankee Stadium Wednesday against Whitey Ford.

The odds began to fluctuate as rumors flew that Koufax, who posted a 25-5 record during the season, had come down with the flu. When the Dodgers arrived in New York late Monday night, Koufax said he never had the flu, only a slight cold.

"It's all over now," said Koufax.

Dodger Manager Walter Alston, asked about Koufax' cold, said briskly: "Tell them he'll pitch."

While Alston was expressing no doubts about his pitching ace, he was concerned about two others, third baseman Ken McMullen and veteran left-hander Johnny Podres, who became a questionable second game starter.

McMullen pulled a hamstring muscle last Thursday and has not played since. Alston thinks the youngster will be able to start but if he cannot, Jim Gilliam will switch over to third base and Dick Tracewski, a light-hitting, good-fielding reserve, will open at second base.

Alston was highly vexed with Podres' pitching performance against Philadelphia Saturday night. The 30-year-old left-hander, who shut out the Yankees in the final game of the 1955 World Series, was pounded for eight runs and 12 hits in 2 2-3 innings. Included were two home runs.

The Dodgers' late arrival enabled the Yankees to engage in a long workout during which Ford, lefty Al Downing and right-hander Jim Bouton took long turns pitching. The trio is expected to start all the games, even if the series goes th seven-game limit.

"Ford and Downing will pitch the first and second games here," said Yankee Manager Ralph Houk at the end of the workout. "It will be Bouton in the third game in Los Angeles."

"The club is in the best condition it's been all year," Houk said. "Mickey Mantle is running better than at any time since he got hurt and Roger Maris' back doesn't seem to be bothering him now."

Harder Is Fired After 36 Years With Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Baseballs take funny bounces, too. Ask Mel Harder, who was fired as Cleveland pitching coach and replaced by Early Wynn, the man he taught to pitch so well.

Harder was an institution in Cleveland—until Monday. Then Gabe Paul, the Indians' general manager, fired Harder, 53, who had been with Cleveland for 36 years, a record tenure in baseball.

The man Paul turned to was Wynn, 43, who came back this year to win his 300th major league game—and did it, although he lost two games along the way.

"Early was reluctant to take the position with us only because he didn't want anyone to think he was seeking Mel's job," said Manager Birdie Tebbetts.

"I simply told Early that Mel wasn't going to be with us next year in any case. And that if he wouldn't accept the offer to become our pitching coach, we'd bring in somebody else."

Harder joined the Indians in 1928 and posted a 223-186 record in 20 seasons as a Tribe pitcher. He was a player-coach in 1947, but had dvoted full time to teaching since the 1948 season, when the Indians became world champions.

"I'm checking out a few clubs," he said. "About four years ago, the Yankees and White Sox offerd me a coaching position. Maybe somebody will want me now."

The Indians didn't give any rasons for the firing, but it's no secret that the front office has been unhappy about the Cleveland pitching staff.

Wynn is being taken off the active roster and his pitching days probably are over. "It's not in his mind or mine to reactivate him," said Tebbetts.

Rubick May Be Held Out For One Year

The football coaching staff at Michigan State University is considering the possibility of holding Ron Rubick, halfback from Manistique, out of action this fall to preserve his final year of eligibility.

Rubick suffered a knee injury which required corrective surgery last spring. He was used sparingly in fall practice drills in an effort to determine if the muscles of the leg have returned to full strength.

The Spartan coaching staff is expected to make a decision at a meeting next week. If he plays this year, MSU officials hope to have him ready by the Michigan game Oct. 12.

Rubick, the all-time Upper Peninsula prep football scoring champion with 184 points in his senior year at Manistique, was Michigan State's leading runner until sidelined by the injury last fall.

Oklahoma Jumps To First Place In College Poll

By JOHN CHANDLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Oklahoma Sooners, who have gone through a seven-year drought since their last championship team, took over first place by a landslide today in the second Associated Press weekly poll of the nation's Top Ten football teams.

Oklahoma, which defeated the 1962 national champion Southern California Trojans Saturday 17-12 in blistering 105-degree heat at Los Angeles, vaulted from third to the No. 1 rating by polling 36 of the 53 first-place votes from a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

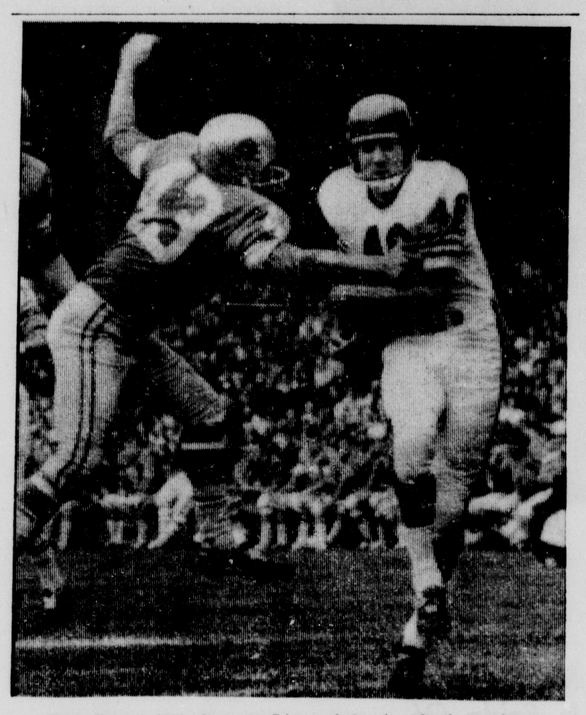

The Trojans, who received 23 first-place votes a week ago, skidded to eighth place. Arkansas, No. 8 last week, dropped out after being defeated by Missouri 7-6.

While Alabama remained in the challenging No. 2 spot, and other teams were slightly juggled in the ratings, Mississippi edged back into the picture at the No. 10 spot after blasting Kntucky 31-7. Ole Miss, rated No. 2 in the opening poll, had dropped from the first ten after being held to a scoreless tie by Memphis State.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Oklahomans, who ranked No. 8 in the 1962 final season poll, received 495 points in the latest concensus, based on 10 points for first, nine for second, etc.

The top ten, with first-place votes in parentheses;

Team ... points
1.Oklahoma (36)	495
2.Alabama (9)	402

Red Hickey Out, Christiansen In As 49er's Coach

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Red Hickey is out, Jack Christiansen is in but the question is the same: Can the San Francisco 49ers win in the National Football League.

Hickey, the fiery redhead who starred at Arkansas and played end for the Los Angeles Rams, quit Monday in the wake of a 45-14 loss to the Minnesota Vikings.

Hours later Jack Christiansen, out of Colorado State and a six-year All-Pro with the Detroit Lions defensive secondary, was named in Hickey's place. Christiansen joined the 49ers in 1958 as coach for the defensive backs, the same season Hickey took over as head man, relieving Frankie Albert.

Hickey said he had considered the move for a couple of weeks "unless we started winning." The loss string stands at 10 straight—two from last year's regular campaign, five exhibition games and three regular games this year.

When the Vikings buried his apparently demoralized squad Sunday in Minnesota, Hickey told President Vic Morabito he wanted out now. Morabito announced tersely Hickey's resignation was accepted.

Later, at a news conference, Morabito emphasized Christiansen's appointment was for only the remaining 11 games this year. He denied he was thinking in terms of Paul Brown or Y. A. Tittle for the future as the possible 49er head man.

Brown was ousted by the Cleveland Browns last year and is said to be smarting to get another shot in the NFL. Tittle was traded by Hickey to the New York Giants because "he was obsolete." Since then Tittle has become the Giants' mainstay and 49er fans have been riding Hickey for letting him get away.

Christiansen, now 34, said the current 49ers had some good players and that hustle could produce some victories. He said he would use basically the same system.

To 49er fans it was all a familiar story. After 14 seasons, the 49ers have not yet as much as won a divisional title in the NFL. Ticket sales are down, the fans who show up boo lustily and quarterback John Brodie has a sore arm.

St. Cloud Next For Tech Squad

HOUGHTON—After disposing NIC champion Winona State 16-14, Michigan Tech's young Huskies now focus their sifhts on pass-minded St. Cloud.

The Techmen, 1-0 in NIC play and 2-1 overall, will meet St. Cloud State at Houghton Oct. 5. Tech leads in the seven game series that began in 1951, 5-1-1. Last year the two played to a 12-12 tie.

At Winona the Huskies exploded their wide-running game for two quick first quarter scores to take a 16-0 lead. They marched 50 yards for the first and then recovered Winona's kickoff fumble on the seven to set up the second TD.

Freshman fullback Paul Butkovich, Houghton, playing in place of injured regular Ron Matestic, slashed over for both scores. Quarterback Ralph Abata, Kinksford, passed to Doug King, Wakefield, and to Dave Thompson, Wauwatosa, for the two point conversions.

Coach Lucier reported his squad came out of the Winona game in good shape and should be ready to go full blast against St. Cloud.

Wolverines Face Tough Navy Foe

ANN ARBOR AP — Navy's line is good size, its backs are fast, and quarterback Roger Staubach is a true All-America quarterback.

Those are the words of warning from Michigan end coach Jack Nelson, who scouted the Middies in their 51-7 rout of West Virginia and their 28-0 triumph over William & Mary.

The Wolverines will engage Navy in Michigan Stadium on Saturday. Although the Wolverines worked out only lightly on Monday, they were expected to get plenty of drills on pass defense Tuesday and the rest of the week in preparing for the aerials of Staubach.

Staubach pitched for 206 yards and completed 12 of 17 passes in the victory over William & Mary. Along with 91 yards rushing, he set a Navy individual record of 297 total yards.

Michigan was vulnerable to passing in its opening game, 27-16 triumph over Southern Methodist. SMU completed 15 of 27 passes for 253 yards.

The champion Yankees won their season series with the Detroit Tigers, 10 games to 8.

Packers' Errors Puzzle Lombardi

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi is a puzzled man. He is unable to explain the sudden outbreak of game errors by the Packers as they strive for a third straight National Football League championship.

"I can't understand it," Lombardi said Monday in reviewing statistics of the Packers' two victories and one defeat.

"We've been a team that has made very few mental and physical mistakes. This year we have had a flock of them. If we continue like this, it's going to catch up with us. We've been stopping ourselves and this must end."

En route to the NFL title with a 13-1 season record last year, the Packers had the fewest passes intercepted — a mere 13 — and lost the ball on fumbles just 15 times. In three games this season, they have surrendered the ball on nine interceptions and five fumbles.

Green Bay gave up three fumbles and two pass interceptions Sunday, but managed to pull out a 31-20 victory over Baltimore.

Willie Davis, an All-League selection as a defensive end, said he thought the Packrs may be "going into games a little tight."

"We're trying to overdo this this thing," Davis said. "We've always been a closely knit team. The mere fact that the offense is experiencing some difficulty means we're just going to have to hang in there tougher.

"We've got to feel that they're going to get rolling. It's only a matter of time."

The Packers are tied with the Minnesota Vikings, a game behind Chicago's undefeated Bears, in the Western Division. Lombardi is satisfied with his team's standing — although unhappy with the flock of mistakes by his offense.

Lowe Undergoes Tendon Surgery

DETROIT AP—Detroit Lions defensive safetyman Gary Lowe was to undergo surgery today for repair of a torn Achilles tendon on his left foot and apparently will be lost for the season.

Lowe, 29, in his seventh season with Detroit, suffered the injury in Sunday's game against the Chicago Bears. Lowe said the tendon "just gave way" as he ran down field following a play. He was taken to a hospital at Ann Arbor.

The Lions also announced that half back Larry Ferguson and defensive end Darris McCord were nursing bruised knees. It was not immediately determined whether either would miss next Sunday's game with the San Francisco '49ers.

Coaches Rap New Sub Rule

SAN FRANCISCO (AP — California football Coach Marv Levy likes the new substitution rule. This is what you call news.

Seems he's the only coach in the state who does.

University of the Pacific coach John Rohde calls the new rule "stupid and idiotic."

Southern California Coach John McKay declares:

"We are through with the three-unit system. We cannot use it under the new rule."

John Ralston of Stanford says flatly he favors returning to unlimited substitution rules of a few years ago.

The new rule restricts substitutions on first and fourth downs, and when the clock is moving. It has eliminated the long lines of players who checked in with officials last season. So officials are not bookkeepers any more.

McKay made his criticisms known at the weekly meeting of Southern California football writers and coaches. The rest of the coaches vented their feelings in the Northern California counterpart luncheon meeting in San Francisco.

Levy admitted fans and coaches may want a return to the free substitution rule used by the professionals. But he said a player "gets more out of football if he goes both ways."

Banks Was Ill During Season

CHICAGO AP—Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs' slugging first baseman, figures to be as good as new when the 1964 season rools around.

Banks, one of the Cubs' all-time sluggers, suffered the worst season of his 10-year career during 1963 when he finished with a .227 average with 18 home runs and 64 runs batted in.

The 32-year-old Banks was out of the Cub line-up during the final month of the season.

Extensive examinations by Dr. Jacob Suker, the club physician, revealed that Banks had a subclinical mumps condition in addition to a blood infection. It all meant that Banks was run down.

"I'll be ready when the whistle blows next season," said Banks.

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. AP —Well-travelled pro quarterback Lamar McHan has arrived to join the San Francisco 49ers as insurance to No. 1 signal caller John Brodie, still nursing an off season arm injury.

McHan is an ex-Chicago Cardinal and Green Bay Packer who played the last two seasons at Baltimore. He had been put on waivers last week.

We have tried to plan this herd for increased production and feel we have a real good herd to offer for foundation animals or replacements in any herd. There are Cows in this herd that have produced as high as 626 lbs. of butterfat in one year. The herd is mostly all from the Burke line of breeding. We have never forced this herd with a lot of feed and feel that anyone purchasing these cattle will make some very high records, as these cattle have type and capacity for production. Look them over any time prior to Sale day to satisfy yourself.
Catalogues will be available on these cattle prior to Sale by contacting Walter Heise, H. W. Swartz or Don Steege. We have 34 Cows, 6 of them are from No. 107 at Badger Breeders, due to freshen with their second calf, 7 from Inspiration Burke Oscar 1354317, 10 from the Vista San Wis. Electronic Fishing Gear Perfected In Peninsula

By KENNETH S. LOWE

The Department of Conservation has what is believed to be the most advanced electronic fishing gear for research use of any state in the Union, thanks to experiments conducted in the Upper Peninsula.

The heart of the new equipment is a three-phase alternating current generator and a control and rectifier unit designed for the department by Clinton Harris, Ann Arbor electronics engineer.

The generator and control unit give fisheries research and management workers a flexibility hitherto unknown in lake and stream shocking operations, which biologists use primarily to ascertain fish populations.

At the same time, T. B. Durling, L'Anse, district fisheries supervisor for the department, and Willard Spaulding, Marquette, habitat biologist for the lake and stream improvement section of the department's fish divisions, have designed a boom shocker device that greatly increases the efficiency of shocking operations along the shores of lakes.

Main feature of the boom shocker, which was built by Upper Peninsula field personnel of the lake and stream improvement section, is a "sandwich" deck construction, which keeps all wire runs out of harm's way and increases safety, permits internal storage of booms, electrodes and soap nets.

Intense Field

The electrical field is introduced into the water by six electrodes which hang from the front boom, creating an intense field (needed in the Upper Peninsula's soft waters) about 16 feet wide and five feet deep. Electrode ends of three different diameters are available, giving additional flexibility in dealing with difficult shocking conditions.

Harris' electronic equipment is employed both in the boom shocker for lake studies and in electronics apparatus used in checking streams for fish inventories.

Former president of the Argus Corp. and vice president of Sylvania Corp., Harris is now retired and has donated his technical Knowledge and inventive skill to the Conservation Department at no charge. He also has donated personally - owned electronic equipment to help department fisheries workers solve some of their technical problems.

"In the past," said Durling, "fisheries workers have been restricted to using fixed voltage equipment in their shocking devices, and these have had little or no safety features. Mr. Harris' innovations have corrected this and have given us equipment with much greater versatility."

Voltage Control

Up to now, 230-volt direct current generators were standard equipment for shocking lakes and streams to determine what sort of aquatic life inhabited the waters. Harris' device utilizes three-phase alternating current (the same type that is used by power companies), brings it into the control unit, where the voltage can be controlled from one to 280. Thus, while previous equipment was limited to 230 volts of direct current, Harris, equipment can supply anywhere from one to 280 volts of alternating current.

Moreover, the amount of voltage can be metered with Harris' equipment, something that was not possible previously. Fisheries crews had to guess how much electricity they actually were putting into the water. Now they can tell continuously and exactly how much current is flowing in the water and thus know how effectively they are shocking.

And the new gear can rectify the three-phase alternating current into almost pure direct current and regulate its voltage from one to well over 300. This ability to "fish" with either alternating or direct current is important. Sufficient alternating current has a narcotic effect of fish, temporarily "knocking them out" so that biologists can observe them and check their numbers. But direct current pulls the fish toward the electrical field without knocking them out.

Quick Fish Counts

Alternating current is used primarily in lakes for quick counts of fish numbers without the necessity of using nets. It is not so practical, however, in streams, where fish may lurk under banks or logs. In these places, alternating current would stun the fish without necessarily exposing them to view. But direct current would draw them toward the electrodes, even if the fish were under banks or logs, thus permitting biologists to observe and count them.

The safety controls incorporated into Harris' electronic gear include a remote saftey switch installed in the handle of the electrode that operators use when shocking a stream. This micro-switch disconnects all of the electronic equipment the moment an operator lets go of the handle. If any operator slips on a rock in the stream and drops the handle attached to the electrode, the entire piece of equipment is shut off automatically, preventing the possibility of electrocution.

The same principle is applied to the lake shocking equipment. Here, operators stand on foot mats on the deck of the boom shocker. If one of the operators accidentally falls off the boom shocker, the field of electricity in the water is switched off the instant the operator's feet leave the mat.

Safety Devices

There have been instances in which operators have been electrocuted while using electronic fishing equipment. Even though much higher voltages are employed than previously, this is not likely to occur with Harris' equipment. "There is no other electronic fishing gear that has these safety features," Harris said.

Harris' gear is particularly valuable in research in the Upper Peninsula because so much of the water here is pure (soft), and soft water does not conduct electricity as readily as harder water. This has made it particularly difficult for Upper Peninsula fisheries workers to obtain satisfactory results with fixed-voltage shockers, since they had no way of obtaining the higher voltages necessary to produce the proper flow of current in soft water. Conversely, they had no way of reducing voltage when occasional hard waters were encountered and so were hampered by fish being subjected to excessive electrical currents.

The units designed by Harris have solved this problem.

The new equipment is so much more accurate and efficient than equipment previously used that results of some of the lake and stream shocking done in the past in the Upper Peninsula may have to be rechecked with Harris' gear.

Electronic fishing gear designed by Clinton Harris, far left, is shown being tested on the Chocolay River in Marquette County. Conducting fish shocking operations are Roy Babbitt, second from left, F. H. Thompson, Conservation Department lake and stream improvement section foreman; T. B. Durling, L'Anse, district fisheries supervisor, and Arthur Feldhauser, Marquette, lake and stream improvement construction foreman.

A boom shocker designed by T. B. Durling and Willard Spaulding, Marquette, habitat biologist for lake and stream improvement section, is shown undergoing testing on Engman's Lake in Marquette County.

Negroes Don't Vote In Bloc

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

NEGRO VOTING: Negroes do not vote in a bloc, says one of their leaders, Roy Wilkins.

"They'll vote for anybody who will treat them right," Wilkins said Sunday, and added that members of this race favor re-election of President Kennedy because he "is doing something for them."

Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was interviewed on a non-network television program, "Youth Wants to Know."

Of Sen. Barry Goldwater, a possible Republican presidentila candidate, Wilkins said there would be "great apprehension" among Negroes if the Arizonan brought into the White House certain views expressed in his book, "The Conscience of a Conservative."

Wilkins attributed to Goldwater the view that "states' rights should take precedence over federal action, and that the civil rights question should be left to the states."

GOLDWATER: Sen. Barry Goldwater, in an apparent change of mind, has decided to make a speech Oct. 29 in New Hampshire, where the nation's first presidential primary election is scheduled in 1964.

Goldwater has previously indicated he would not visit New Hampshire this year.

REACTOR: What would happen if a missile-borne nuclear reactor plunged into the sea after a launching failure?

Atomic Energy Commission scientists are going to try a realistic test to find out.

Instead of the ocean, they will use a water tank inside a building on the Idaho desert, sometime in November.

A 750-pound reactor will be immersed in the tank and deliberately destroyed while the scientists watch from a test building 1½ miles away.

The test is to help determine whether the world's first satellite using nuclear-powered instruments can be launched as planned next year without any possible hazard to the public.

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYMENT: A decline of 3,849 in civilians on the federal government's payroll during August compared with a month earlier was reported today by a congressional committee.

The total was 2,515,008 at the end of the month.

Al Jolson, the famed singer, was born in Russia and came to the United States when he was about seven years old.

Campus Elms To Be Sprayed

EAST LANSING (AP) — "Let us spray," the Michigan State University Board of Trustees has decided.

The trustees were caught in the middle between elm admirers and bird lovers.

A report by an Advisory Committee on Campus Spraying put it this way:

"This DDT spraying program, in effect, was like a two-edged sword; on one edge DDT has been found to be an effective means of controlling the Dutch Elm disease. On the other it was the source of a variety of undesirable side effects ranging from demonstrable depletion of campus bird life to possible endangering of biological research on campus through contamination of our water supply."

The compromise decision was to spray half the elms with DDT and the other half with methoxychlor, another control chemical believed to be less lethal to bird life.

In addition, two woodlots will be set aside as control areas and will not be sprayed at all. This will enable a check on the entire program.

"Many of our campus elms are majestic old growth specimens destined to become even more valuable," said the committee. "To fail to protect such heirlooms would be to abandon a public asset valued on a replacement basis at around $500,000."

It was conceded, however, that the campus bird population has been seriously affected by the DDT spray program. One professor has made regular checks and reported finding numerous dead robins and other songbirds.

"Moreover," said the report, "there was full awareness that the plight of a stricken songbird generates a more emotional and militant brand of public opinion than does that of a stricken elm."

Aroused public opinion against spraying, it was noted, contributed to the complete abandonment of the program at the University of Illinois. This resulted in the loss of 2,500 elms at a removal cost of $162,000.

An alternate recommendation was to spray all the campus elms with methoxychlor. There still is not complete data on the effectiveness of this second chemical, however.
